

A Pedestrian Obstacle

THIS CORNER was once a pedestrian walkway. Located at the intersection of Poncetta Drive and Alemany Avenue, the sidewalk is considered a walking hazard by several irate residents of the neighborhood. The State Division of Highways is sponsoring a new signal light project at the corner, however no work has been undertaken for several weeks, residents complain. Contractors have left several gaping holes in the sidewalk along with safety horses and piles of electrical wiring. The light standard was installed in the middle of the Daly City sidewalk. $296,526 To Install

Cable Television Bid Accepted In San Bruno

By BOB PETERSON
Post-Times Writer

San Bruno councilmen have accepted a bid of $296,526.50 from the Philadelphia firm of Jerrold Electronics, with offices in Redwood City, for installation of a cable television system.

Jerrold was the only one of four bidders presenting a complete bid plus providing the necessary bid bonds. And the $296,526.50 accepted bid actually was $47,105 below their complete bid of $343,631.50.

The reason for the lower accepted bid is because the councilmen deleted five items "not necessary at the present time" to meet Federal Communication Commission regulations. City Mgr. Gerard Vergeer, who supplied a lengthy report, pointed out that these items could be purchased at a later date.

The deleted items include a head end building with a bid price of $29,933, a 25 kilowatt generator with a bid price of $6,250, a video tape recorder with a bid price of $2,441, two television cameras with a bid price of $5,774 and a service scanner with a bid price of $2,707.

Vergeer said the city could save as much as $6,000 by a separate contract for the construction of the head end building. He added that the emergency power plant can be sized to the requirements with a saving of $1,500.

According to Vergeer, other bidders bid only on parts of the (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

Highway 380 Design Meeting On Thursday

An information meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday at the San Bruno City council chambers regarding the design of Highway 380 from El Camin Real to Bayshore Freeway.

The meeting is an outgrowth of a letter from Mayor Neil Christal to Division of Highways engineer Alan Hart in which Christal questioned whether the state was changing the highway without a public hearing involving the city.

Hart informed Christal this was not the case. He said some minor changes were proposed but did not affect San Bruno residential properties. If a hearing is desired, the city may ask for one.

The district highway engineer agreed to a "complete discussion" of the matter at the convenience of the city.

A 350-Acre Park Site Is Rejected

A resolution that would have given added emphasis to a appeal to buy some 350 acres of San Bruno Mountain for a park site died in an equally divided split vote at the North County Council of Cities meeting on Thursday.

Menlo Park Councilman Michael L. Belange, also chairman of the County Parks and Open Space Commission, told the NCCC members he was scheduled to appear before the County Board of Supervisors Monday and would urge them to buy the mountain area "with or without your support."

But the unusual 3-3 vote, which came about because of Brisbane's absence, "confused and bewildered" Belange.

He scolded that three years ago the same cities unanimously approved the park priorities.

Pacifica councilwoman Grace McCarthy said no such priority label was put on the park land purchase.

Burlingame, Daly City and South San Francisco voted to (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

A Skirmish Featured At Council Meet

The Daly City council skipped through a lengthy agenda in near record time Monday night.

Except for a brief skirmish between councilman Frank Paccelli and an inquisitive citizen, the meeting went smoothly.

Near the end of the session Mrs. S. Krips approached the council and inquired about the operations of the city's Central Services Department and why it had doubled in size during the past three years.

Using an editorial which appeared in a twice-weekly local paper some four months ago, Mrs. Krips noted "Central Services" had doubled in manpower and costs in recent months and was used solely for the purpose (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

A Series Of Candidates' Nights Starts In Pacifica

Pacifica Volunteers for Better Government, an outgrowth from COST (Citizens opposed to sewer Tax) has arranged for a series of candidates nights. A panel of concerned citizens will question each candidate in a format similar to "Meet the Press" for about 45 minutes. The following is the schedule, resuming today:

March 11, at Fairmont School, 290 Edgewood Drive, 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Berenice Palmer, 8:15 p.m. water district director Gino Ottonello, 9 p.m. Laguna Salada Trustee Stan Farber.

March 12, at Pacific Manor School, 411 Oceana Blvd., 7:30 p.m. Ken Addleman, 8:15 p.m. David Foster, 9:00 p.m. Mayor Nick Gust.

South S.F. Insists Extension Of BARTD Go Underground

South San Francisco officials made it crystal clear Friday they will oppose any BARTD extension to International Airport unless it is built entirely underground through their city.

The demands came at a joint meeting of representatives from San Mateo County, San Francisco Public Utility Commission, San Francisco Planning Department, BARTD and North County municipalities at the Daly City city hall held to discuss the rail extension to the airport.

San Mateo County Supervisor

James V. Fitzgerald explained to South San Francisco mayor Frank Bertucelli and city planner Dan Pass the purpose of the Friday meeting was merely to establish a ways and means study of the link — not to start construction of the line.

Fitzgerald later said the talks concerning the rapid transit line between Daly City and the airport had bogged down in recent months and the meeting was aimed at getting the study underway as soon as possible.

Fitzgerald later said the talks concerning the rapid transit line between Daly City and the airport had bogged down in recent months and the meeting was aimed at getting the study underway as soon as possible.

He noted that airport officials were at the "point of no return" in planning their new terminal building and were looking towards the study group for direction before committing some $1 million for added structural supports.

The extra pillars would be required to support the proposed transit line that would terminate inside the new building.

"Everyone seems to agree on this (transit extension) and we must start cutting away the red tape," Fitzgerald said.

BARTD president William Reedy agreed and directed his staff to send out formal letters right away to the federal government in order to qualify for partial funding of the study.

This action would hopefully cut down on the waiting period for federal monies.

Coast Dump Report Said Premature

By FRANK LAPIERRE
Post-Times Writer

A report that Pacifica will soon start dumping its garbage in Daly City has been labeled "premature" by Daly City officials.

Daly City scavenger boss Al Serini told The Post March 4 he had discussed the possibility of Pacifica using the Mussel Rock dump site for disposal, "but these talks were strictly on an informal basis ... nothing positive was agreed upon between us."

According to reports in a coastside newspaper, Serini and Mario Toriggino, co-owner of the Coastside Scavenger Company, had negotiated a proposal for dumping rights at the Daly City dump. This proposal was subject to ratification by both city councils.

Serini said he was "bewildered" by Toriggino's statements and pointed out his franchise with Daly City does not allow him to dispose of outside refuse.

The Daly City city council would have to scrap the present agreement and initiate a new one which would allow Serini to handle Pacifica's estimated 60 tons of daily garbage.

Both Serini and Daly City entered into a joint operational (Please See Page 4, Column 4)

Coast Meet Thursday On Refuse Plans

The Pacifica City Council adjourned its Monday night meeting to 7:30 p.m. Thursday to continue discussions on the Coastside Scavenger Company's report.

Councilmen talked for an hour on the topic Monday and directed to work with the city's financial officer on cost estimates involved in the present Frontierland site and two outside-the-city alternative sites being considered.

On another disposal front, City Mgr. Bill Masonheimer disclosed the Milagra Canyon dumpsite proposal is "not dead." He said, "We have not heard from the Army yet."

He added, however, that as a "practical matter," even if "we were ready to go" with the Milagra site, the city is not in a position to be ready by the time it must be out of the Frontierland site in April.

OUTSIDE SPEAKERS' POLICY

'Controversial' Classroom Talks Won't Be Recorded

Auditorium Jammed To Overflow In San Bruno

By WILL E. THOMAS
Post City Editor

More than 500 parents and other interested San Bruno citizens jammed — and overflowed — the Decima Allen auditorium Monday night to hear a multi-tude of verbiage both praising and condemning tape recording of controversial subject talks by outside speakers.

The numbers had slimmed only slightly when trustees of the San Bruno Park School District rejected pleas from an insistent group of fathers that mandatory taping was a legitimate approach to keeping tabs on what is being told their children.

Action came at about midnight Monday when trustees declined to act on the vocal request of a group of San Bruno fathers to include tape recording as a stipulation to classroom talks by "outside speakers."

Many parents were still on hand when the board made its decision to adopt the recommendation of Supt. George Lawry — which was essentially that the principal and teacher approve outside speakers.

Prior to the board's decision, the standing-room-only crowd heard a thorough hashing and rehashing of the pros and cons of initiating a policy that would require tape recording of classroom talks on controversial subjects by outside speakers.

Sitting and standing, both inside and outside the auditorium of the Allen School, the parents were orderly for the most part.

Shortly after 10 p.m. restlessness could be noted as speaker after speaker trooped to the rostrum for their say in the controversy, as they have been doing as a regular habit at San Bruno Park District meetings since a group of fathers asked trustees to order taping of outside speakers.

The parents became more restless shortly before 10:30 p.m. when Board Chairman Harry Redlick bluntly asked the fathers' representative, Joseph Haggerty, for specific information on what a black speaker told a young classroom audience, and to back up in writing other allegations that could be "investigated."

Haggerty in turn urged Supt. George Lawry be directed to answer some correspondence in the controversial issue. As both Haggerty and Lawry appeared to tense, a black citizen stopped the discussion in its tracks.

He identified himself as a former San Mateo educator, now an official at Mills College, who was "involved" in the controversy. He was the teacher, he said, at the time a black student to whom the fathers had attributed certain statements.

The educator in the crowd — the capacity sign says "210" — and the audience crammed into every inch of wall-space, and overflowed outside as well — described the 17-year-old black student as a varsity athlete, a scholar, a Boys' State delegate — generally "everything that all good white Americans hold to be true and dear."

He challenged the authenticity of the statement attributed to the black student, which was not that he—as reported—had (Please See Page 2, Column 6)

'Children Of Society', CSM Student Says

A College of San Mateo student, Nancy Lewis, wrought both gasps and applause — in addition to occasional laughter — as she spoke at Monday night's "outside speaker" meeting of the San Bruno Park School District trustees.

Miss Lewis had been sitting with the 500-plus other persons in the filled-beyond-capacity Decima Allen School auditorium through one speech after another, with various facial expressions showing her reaction.

She told the audience of mostly parents that the pupils of which they spoke "no longer are your children."

She said "we are society's child," as she went onto explain that those parents who think they still retain absolute control over the children are guilty of being "archaic in your thoughts."

Miss Lewis pointed out that the solution is "facing the facts, finally, that education is running at a faster pace than most parents can keep up with."

She added that she hoped par- (Please See Page 4, Column 5)

Cardroom Wins Hand In San Bruno

San Franciscan Howard L. DeLong Jr. has won the first hand in a poker cardroom operation at 478 San Mateo Avenue, San Bruno. He was issued a "retail sales, tobacco, candy and soft drinks" business license Monday afternoon.

City councilmen, however, have dealt a new hand. Their intention is to obtain a new zoning in the immediate area, hopefully before DeLong can get his cardroom set up. A second objective is to regulate issuance of similar type licenses in the future throughout the city.

Incidentally, another "retail sales, tobacco, candy and soft drinks" business license has been issued (euphemistically) (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

North County Publishing Companies Named In Suit

Two North County publishing companies and publisher Logan Franklin are named defendants in a lawsuit filed by two minority shareholders and alleging that "substantial profits have not been accounted for."

The suit, filed in Superior Court in Redwood City by Frederick Weybref and Ray Anderson of Lodi, names the Day-Lake Publishing Company of Daly City and the Industrial City Publishing Company of South San Francisco, and Franklin as president and director of Day-Lake and principal stockholder of Industrial City. The firms publish the Daly City Record, Westlake Times and South San Francisco Enterprise-Journal.

The court action springs from the 1964 sale of 55 per cent of Day-Lake stock to Industrial City by Weybref, Anderson and James N. Harrah.

Weybref and Anderson declare in the suit that on several occasions they have demanded information on the Day-Lake operation from Franklin and two other directors, Murray Iffi and Vincent Mage, but an accounting has been refused. The suit alleges that the three men have "conspired" to make "secret profits" and asks the court to order dissolution of the corporation because they "have been guilty of persistent fraud, mismanagement and abuse of their authority." North County Council Axes Park Site Purchase Appeal

In his explanation of the San Bruno Mountain park, Belangei pointed out the proposed park should be located in the "saddle area" of the mountain.

Land costs on the undeveloped mountain have been steadily rising and Belangei said "we should get in there now!"

Belangei admitted he was a strong supporter of the mountain park development — a park he felt the county needs "very badly."

What turned some councilmen away from supporting the issue was the 15 cent since the park purchase would take out of the county tax rate.

Some officials interpreted the park fund's cost as meaning this would be added to the present county tax rate.

Belangei said the 15 cents would raise some $2.4 million.

Burlingame councilman Dave Martin said the park would not cost an added 15 cents on the present tax rate, rather it would be budgeted from the present tax rate.

The county now sets aside 5 cents for park and open space development and Martin noted the San Bruno Mountain project might only have to be budgeted for another ten cents, plus a high priority to get it underway.

But the three cities that voted against the regional park were not convinced.

Pacifica's Nick Gust said his constituents "would shake over a two cent rate increase."

"The people of Pacifica couldn't take it," Gust said.

A long-time supporter of the North County Park, Daly City mayor Bernard J. (Bud) Lycett said the proposal was not new.

"This project is about four years old and has been before the Board of Supervisors in the past," Lycett said.

The members were assured by Belangei that no other park project would be scrapped as a result of the San Bruno Mountain project.

Francisco and BARTD on the number of representatives appointed to the system's Board of Control.

The agencies concerned with the project agreed to increase the number of representatives from three to five — giving a spot on the Board to a North County city representative.

Both Reedy and Fitzgerald also agreed that the mayor or city manager of Daly City, South San Francisco, San Bruno, Colma and Millbrae, along with a representative from the airport and San Francisco PUC, form a "Right-of-Way Advisory Committee" to hash out problems that might arise regarding track routes.

A TOAST with coffee was raised to the success of Pacifica's newly-expanded W. T. Grant store in the Linda Mar Shopping Center, and among those officiating were Councilwoman Grace McCarthy, Police system. These, however, were compared with the Jerrold bid covering the same portion of the work.

For example, Kaiser CATV bid $214,996 for a trunk and distribution system only. Jerrold's trunk and distribution system bid was $213,707.

A bid of $284,944.05 was received from Cascade Electronics. They did not, however, submit bonds. Vergeer also pointed out that the firm bid $3,000 on the head end building. He said the building cost is close to $25,000.

Jerrold also added a one year guarantee after completion of the system and the availability of technical personnel.

A cable television system, under rent rulings by the FCC, is now required to furnish local program origination by January 1, 1971, provided the system has 3,500 subscribers. San Bruno's specifications have provided for such a service, and studio items, as well as a studio and operating building, were included in the bids.

City Atty. Joe Galligan confirmed that the city would not have to obtain a rezoning of the area of site of the proposed station. The area is presently zoned low density residential. Vergeer had asked for a variance to include the building and two 65-foot towers.

Galligan is working out legal problems with Pacific Telephone Company regarding the joint pole agreement between the phone company and the city. He said it is taking longer than normal because this is a "first."

A Jazz Worship

The Westmoor High School Stage Band will present "A Jazz Workshop Service" at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Pacifica on Sunday night, at 8 p.m. The band Saturday won Second Place in Reno competition.

The idea of this service came from Howard Loeffler who is a resident of Pacifica, a member of Bethlehem Lutheran Church and the music instructor at Westmoor High.

Loeffler defines this service as "meditation and praise of God through the jazz idiom." He is using an outstanding jazz band which won Superior ratings at Tracy last year and at the University of California this year in bay area jazz festivals. The Westmoor Jazz Band has also competed in the Jazz Festival at Reno, sponsored by the University of Nevada, and won first place and Honorable Mention ratings five years running.

Brief Skirmish At D.C. Meet of "grinding out propaganda" been added.

City manager David Rowe explained that the article was in complete error and, in fact, for the past three years (since the department had been formed) no additional manpower had been "arrested" because of his color, but that he had been "stopped" when Hillsborough police were assertedly hunting for a robber and rapist.

And aside from a public newsletter the city had not printed any "propaganda" material during this period. The newsletter was stopped three years ago.

Rowe said the article was based on a misunderstanding—a publishing error—in the summary booklet concerning the annual budget.

The Central Services Department, which operates under the Finance Department and dabbles in everything from print official forms to storing plumbing and parking supplies—was listed under the wrong heading.

The tiff with Pacelli came at the end of an explanation of the matter by Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett directed at Mrs. Krips' questions.

Mrs. Krips interrupted the mayor's answer and asked another question, this one regarding why the city's recreational brochure was so elaborate.

"You don't seem to want an answer," Pacelli charged. "Mayor Lycett was answering your questions but that's not what you seem to want..."

Pacelli said the budget was a matter of public record and invited interested persons to direct any questions they may have concerning it to the Finance Department.

In a parting shot at the council Mrs. Krips asked why the budget summation (printed by the city in Central Services) did not have a union label on it.

Rowe explained the city department does not have to be a union shop.

In other action, the council shelved a resolution by the Jefferson Elementary School District which would eliminate the use of motor bikes and other unlicensed vehicles on school property.

The temporary action was prompted by a letter from school officials pointing out the matter is under study.

that tends to perpetuate councilmen in office."

Up to that time there had been talks by 16 proponents of both beliefs plus "neutrals."

There were 19 others on the agenda, and they were heard. Chairman Redlick had cast aside time limits in the interest of allowing everyone to be heard fully, he said.

When the trustees finally approved Lawry's recommendations they did so with two exceptions. They deleted a section that would have allowed a child to be released from hearing a particular talk, by note or letter from home.

That deletion led to omission of Point 4 in the Lawry suggestions that teachers could not test on the contents of a talk.

The sardine-like crowd bordered on disorderliness only once—when Haggerty leveled accusations at Lawry. The rest of the time they appeared to respond (except for those groups who felt deeply pro or con) to the merits of individual assertions as the parade of speakers went on and on.

for that purpose and a cardroom at 280 El Camino Real. The applicant was Frank Lucia, of 580 First Avenue, San Bruno. It was done without fanfare.

Since the city does not have a cardroom license per se, it is necessary to issue a business license for a retail-type operation. It is understood, however, that a cardroom will be operated, too.

City Mgr. Gerard Vergeer last night presented the councilmen with a page and a half report on the proposed cardroom at 478 San Mateo Avenue.

He noted that he had met with the city attorney, the city clerk, the police and fire chiefs and the fire marshal to determine the city's position.

"It is our finding that, at the present time there is no legal provision which would prohibit the use of the premises referred to for a smoke shop and cardroom," said Vergeer's report.

The report recommended that the area may be zoned in such a manner as to require a use permit. Also that it is possible for the city to adopt a revenue ordinance that would provide for "reasonable license fees" per card table, and to limit the number of card rooms on a population basis.

Gardena, in Southern California, has such an ordinance. City Clerk Carl Hultberg noted that San Bruno has a copy of this ordinance.

"We are mindful of the fact there are many elderly people in our community who spend a great deal of time in card rooms as their personal recreation," said the report.

"As a matter of fact such places have caused us practically no problems and, to avoid any problems, many of these operations have used the services of police personnel on a reimbursement basis in order to ensure proper conduct, both on the patrons."

Fire Chief Herbert F. Freitas explained that his department has been given "very sketchy plans" but that it is the intention of the applicant to partition off the building to meet the city's code.

There was a problem initially of lack of a rear exit, a violation of the city's fire code. However, according to Freitas, if the building is partitioned off so that it will have a 50-person capacity, a rear exit is not required.

The building is approximately 2,000 square feet. To meet the code it must be partitioned off to a 750-square-foot area. That area behind the partition presumably will be used for storage.

Councilmen George Corey made the motion to refer the matter to the planning commissioners for the purpose of placing the 400, 500 and 600 block of San Mateo Avenue into a Central Business District (CBD) zoning.

Under this zoning classification recently adopted by the councilmen, the city may regulate the type of business occupying the buildings in the city's business districts.

Corey moved also that the city attorney propose a zoning ordinance "requiring a permit for this type of business" anywhere in the city.

"We are faced with the problem of being overrun with cardrooms," said Corey. "I earnestly request the commissioners return this matter to us at their earliest convenience. Maybe we can obtain the new zoning before they (DeLong) can get the cardroom established."

Corey suggested that maybe the matter of the CBD zoning can be expedited through the city attorney's office and "public hearings can be cut down for this emergency situation."

S.S.F. Council Raises Employees' Salaries

By BOB PETERSON
Post-Times Writer

San Francisco city employees are walking around somewhat richer today.

Councilman Thursday unanimously agreed to salary "adjustments" of both general employees and department heads which will boost the annual payroll an estimated $30,000.

The pay jumps came about as the result of an independent survey by the state personnel board's cooperative personnel services group.

All employees are not affected by the increases, which are retroactive to January 1 of this year.

The initial survey recommendations had no change for 207 positions. A 2 1/2 per cent increase was recommended for 24 positions, a five per cent increase for 14 positions and a 7 1/2 per cent increase for five positions, all among the general employees.

On the department head level, two employees, City Planner Dan Pass and Assistant City Manager Larry Ross, received a boost of 17 1/2 per cent. Ross' pay range went from a top of $1,078 a month to $1,279 a month. Pass had his salary upped from a top of $1,248 to $1,483 a month.

On a recommendation of City Manager Tom McKenzie, following a second report by the survey group, the captain of police and police lieutenant have been put on the same salary level as the assistant fire chief and battalion chief. The former to a top of $1,248 a month, the latter two for a top of $1,154 a month.

And as a result of this, and on McKenzie's recommendation, both Fire Chief John Marchi and Police Chief Sal Rosano received a 2 1/2 per cent pay increase, up from their top of $1,635.

Other department head increases include a change for library administrator R. S. Alvarez from a top of $1,248 to a top of $1,378; Robert Maxey, superintendent of parks and recreation, received a boost from a top of $1,279 to a top of $1,412; City Clerk Art Rodondi was jumped from a top of $1,412 to $1,483; and the city attorney slot of John Noonan, with a flat rate of $1,870, now has a scale of $1,557 to $1,895.

Granting the department head salaries found much less static than the decision on the general employee wage adjustments. Councilman Patrick Ahern, for example, who was vociferous in opposition to the 17 1/2 per cent increase during Monday's council session, last night said, "If it is necessary, okay. But in the future we'd better not let these positions fall so far behind."

McKenzie explained that the reason the assistant city manager position was below scale was because Ross had been moved into that slot from an administrative post, and received no pay increase in the shuffle.

He said he couldn't honestly say why Pass was behind, but "it's obvious that he lags behind other cities."

The tangle on the general employee level had to do mostly with the creation of six new positions of secretary. The positions were filled by persons previously classified as stenographer. Here's where the rub comes in: There are nine persons in the stenographer slots who qualify for the six new positions.

Employee union representative Frank Gillis, who at one point was in a shouting match with McKenzie, said it was the desire of the employees to hold a competitive examination to determine which of the nine should fill the six positions.

The councilmen hemmed and hawed about this seemingly difficult request until Councilman Ahern, in a most generous mood, suggested that all persons with the qualifications be placed on the secretary level.

Teacher's Contract Not Renewed

A three-year Serramonte High School English teacher will not be re-hired next school term by the Jefferson High School District, Supt. Edward Morgan announced last week.

The decision not to grant probationary teacher Michael Calvello tenure was made in executive session by the Board of Trustees. Board members were screening all tenure recommendations Tuesday night, Morgan pointed out.

Calvello, who was graduated from Daly City's Westmoor High School, was to be served notice by district officials this morning, Morgan said.

Several charges were lodged by Morgan against the teacher, including insubordination. It is charged that Calvello refused to remove obscenities painted on his automobile, which was parked daily on the premises of Serramonte High School, Morgan declared, alleging also that Calvello has also failed to follow instructions from his department head concerning course content, continuity and lesson plans.

The superintendent additionally asserted Calvello, who would start his fourth year of teaching next term if retained, allegedly appeared at a school function under the influence of "an intoxicant, narcotic or drug."

The teacher is being charged further with unprofessional conduct, in that he allegedly advised a student concerning the rights of the assistant principal and allegedly failed to follow state laws, district rules and administrative instructions in these respects, Morgan stated: "Allowing students to grade themselves, in violation of the education code."

Failure to keep adequate attendance records or to pursue attendance policies, in violation of district regulations and instructions.

Cancelling classes without notification or permission of the school administration, in violation of specific directions of the principal of the school.

Failure to provide lesson plans, in violation of district regulations and in violation of specific instructions from the department head, and despite being cautioned in previous semesters to prepare lesson plans.

Inability to operate with fellow teachers, including the use of abusive language toward other teachers and failure to communicate or cooperate with team members to the extent that adjustment in team assignments and class structure were required.

Failure to follow present departmental course of study, using music, films, group therapy and other teaching materials and techniques not "reasonably related" to the teaching of his subject matter in disregard of recommendations from his department head.

ty, the suit charges, is being "misapplied, wasted or lost." The suit asks the court to appoint an accountant, at the defendants' expense, to audit the books of Day-Lake and to order the distribution of any amounts found to be owing to the plaintiffs.

In addition, Webref asks for $56,000 which he claims is due him under the 1964 sale.

Franklin told The Times that he is unaware of the suit and would have no comment at least until he sees it.

Service Awards To D.C. Employees

Daly City employees were honored Friday night at the fourth annual awards dinner held at the War Memorial Building.

Service awards were presented to 42 employees with special awards for Melford D. Battye and Mel Hansen for their many years of service to the city.

Battye, former Daly City councilman and longtime member of the city's Personnel Board, missed the meeting because of illness. Hansen was also prevented from attending because of illness.

Ricco Lagomarsino, president of the North San Mateo County Insurance Agents Association, announced that battalion chief Frank Specht, of the fire department, was this year's recipient of the Safety Suggestion award.

Specht suggested that a hedge on the exit road at Marchbanks Park be trimmed to allow motorists a clear view of oncoming traffic and pedestrians using a nearby crosswalk.

Service award pins were presented to:

Retired policeman James Welsh (25 years); 20 years: Lester Bastedo (Police); David Hansen (Police); Allen Hertel (finance);

Fifteen years: John Castagnola (Fire), Elwyn Greenstrand (Fire) John Haley (Public Works), John Martin (Fire), Charles Maschiot (Police), John Peterson (Finance), Neil Pezzola (Public Works), Richard Phillips (Police), Herbert Powell (Fire), Wilma Riley (Finance), Charles Rivera (Fire), Harold Schrock (Fire), Charles Terry (Police);

South S.F. Injury Fatal To Youth, 19

A 19-year-old South San Francisco youth who fell from the rear trunk of a car as it suddenly leaped ahead while being pushed on Pecks Lane in South San Francisco on February 24 died of head injuries last week without regaining consciousness.

The youth, Johnny M. Cantu, a warehouseman of 466 Railroad Avenue, was one of the youths who a San Francisco college professor and two of his students had seen before they were shot at on San Bruno Mountain on the same day.

And, officials have reported, Cantu was riding when fatally injured was one of four youths whom the professor identified as shooting at him on the same day of the accident. The other youth, Terry Gary Wasson, 20, an unemployed service station attendant of 157 Pecks Lane, South San Francisco, was released on bail with three companions March 3 after being held on assault with attempt to commit murder charges.

According to South San Francisco police, Cantu was sitting on a rear trunk of Wasson's car less than an hour after the shooting incident after Wasson's car became stalled. Officers said Cantu was attempting to align up the bumpers of the stalled auto and another vehicle pushing it. When Wasson's car suddenly started up with a jerk, Cantu fell off and hit his head on the pavement. He was taken to Kaiser Foundation Hospital in South San Francisco and transferred to San Mateo County General Hospital, where he died of head injuries in the intensive care unit yesterday evening.

Judge Goes Through A Formality

Municipal Court Judge Charles Becker went through the formality March 3 — a $292.70 formality — of qualifying himself for re-election.

Although he will have no competition and has, in effect, been re-elected, Judge Becker must go through the qualification routine. He paid the filing fee and obtained nomination papers, which must be signed by his sponsors and officially filed.

Judge Becker and a number of other county jurists were assured that they would have no competition when no one filed declarations of intention to run against them prior to February 18. Such declarations are declared only in the case of judicial candidates.

Report Said Premature

Pacific scavengers have been searching for a suitable dump site for the past two years and have been given a deadline of April 1 to transfer their operation out of the Frontierland dump site.

If an agreement is someday worked out between Daly City and Pacifica on disposal of garbage, Daly City city manager Dave Rowe said a special rate will be charged to the outside firm.

Asked how much this "outside charge" might be, Serini hesitated to offer a solid figure but replied: "I think I told Torriggino something like $4 per ton."

This figure may be too low, Serini admitted, and explained he had requested the scavenger company accountant to work out a breakdown on operational costs at the dump.

If the Daly City dump agrees to handle Pacifica refuse, officials are hopeful added revenues will help offset the staggering cost of erecting a seawall ordered by the State Water Quality Control Board to prevent further polluting of the ocean waters in the dump area.

Serini optimistically predicted any extra revenues would be used to accelerate completion of the mile long wall.

Daly City now dumps some 125 tons of garbage each day.

At this rate the present dump ground will be filled within five years, however the scavenger company owns other acreage in the area and as one "hole" is filled operations are moved to another.

Hit-Run Charges Follow Crash

A 30-year-old non-English speaking man, reportedly in the country illegally, was arrested March 4 on felony hit and run charges.

Police said they arrested Leopold Cera, who gave an address of 222 Lux Avenue, South San Francisco, after an injury accident at about 5 p.m. on March 4 on Sequoia Avenue, approximately 38 feet north of Heather Lane.

Police said Cera, who they indicated was to their knowledge in the country illegally, ran from the scene of the accident. A friend returned him to the police station for the arrest.

In the accident, Mrs. Carol Carter, 38, of 2801 Fleetwood Drive, San Bruno, and her three children, Brian, 10, Paul, 13, and Elizabeth, no age listed, sustained injuries.

Mrs. Carter and son Brian were admitted to Peninsula Hospital where both are reported in satisfactory condition today. Mrs. Carter was treated for chest injuries and Brian for cuts on the head. Paul was treated for numerous cuts and released, and Elizabeth was treated for shock and bruises and released.

According to police, the Carter vehicle was southbound on Sequoia Avenue, having just pulled away from the curb at 1571 Sequoia Avenue.

The Cera car was northbound on the street. Both vehicles were in the middle of the roadway when they collided. After the accident Cera fled the scene.

Police said they were given a description of the suspect and the direction he fled by numerous witnesses. A short time later another car drove by and these same witnesses said the man in the vehicle resembled the driver of the accident car.

Police stopped the vehicle to find the passing car contained the legal owner of the accident car. Jose A. Ayala told police he had loaned this car to Cera. Ayala's brother, also arriving at the scene, said he would find Cera and bring him to the station, "which he did," said police.

Political Roundup

South San Francisco city council candidate Edward Toby said that the present council has completely ignored proposed development plans for the Oyster Point Marina Area.

Citing this as an area of prime recreational potential, Toby stated that "plans submitted by the Cabot, Cabot and Forbes developers were rejected without study several years ago and have lain dormant since that time."

These plans proposed to reclaim the present garbage dump area and build a nine-hole golf course, snack bar facilities, and a quality restaurant.

"The projected improvements would be financed by revenue from the development, and therefore would be at no cost to the taxpayer. In fact, the non-profit corporation set up to administer the development would provide revenue to the city by paying rent on land it used," said Toby.

Expanding on the potential of the proposed plans, Toby cited a similar development in the city of San Leandro. "The city fathers of San Leandro have developed a project under identical circumstances," he said.

"What was once a garbage dump is now an outstanding recreational area with golfing and boat repair facilities as well as a fine restaurant. This restaurant, called the 'Blue Dolphin,' pays the city of San Leandro almost $50,000 per year in rent, and last year was among the top three restaurants in the state in gross revenues.

"What is really deplorable,"

Toby said, "is that the city council has failed to develop any alternative plans for the Oyster Point area. As long as I can remember, we have heard talk of building a restaurant or a park, but so far we haven't seen even one tree planted."

"In a very short time we, as residents of the fast growing North County, will be searching for 'open space' to ease the pressure on the cities. We must be willing to consider ways of reclaiming areas such as Oyster Point if we are to meet this future need."

Antoinette Fraschieri, 478 Avalon Drive, has been appointed Campaign Chairman of the "Committee to Elect 'Ed' Edward J. Rickenbacher" to the South San Francisco City Council.

"I am proud to be associated with this outstanding woman," Rickenbacher said. "Her support, and the support of all my friends, is very important to me."

Rickenbacher reported that he has received offers of help from every part of the city.

"I'm emphasizing this in my campaign," he explained. "I don't, and I don't want to be, a candidate to serve only one section of town or any special grievance group."

Rickenbacher said he is appealing to all South San Franciscans for more personal involvement in city affairs.

"Let's take action now, not later," he added. "Don't wait until it strikes home. Get involved now."

Theodore Long thinks San Bruno needs a city council dedicated to providing leadership.

"not just sitting in city hall on Monday evenings and waiting for people to bring problems to us."

And the 31-year-old attorney feels he could, if elected, fill the bill.

Long declared his candidacy for election by observing that only one of the three incumbents—Vice Mayor Karney Barbieri—represents the sort of leadership he believes San Bruno needs.

Long has served for 14 months on the San Bruno Personnel Review Board and is past president of the Monte Verde Homeowners' Association.

"I can't promise to lower taxes," Long said. "People have been given that same old nonsense for so long, but they haven't seen taxes go down."

The attorney said he would promise, however, to re-examine city priorities in hope that San Bruno "can reflect attitudes going on around the country," including emphasis on environmental quality.

He said San Bruno might for example, review its controls over littering, trash and garbage disposal and other factors with an eye toward "setting standards for cities."

Long, his wife and their two children—a daughter, 7, and a son, 5—live at 176 Riviera Court.

Daly City Council candidate McRobert (Mac) Stewart said youth and senior citizens were important to the city and vowed to work for a senior citizens recreation program if elected in April.

"I have hopes of improving recreation facilities for adults, senior citizens and youths," Stewart said. "Particularly, proper lighting of our athletic fields are necessary for parents to increase their participation with youth."

"It will be my intention to work towards broadening other youth areas, such as the Police Athletic League (PAL) and the Better Youth Association (BYA)," he said.

Stewart said he believes the city's youth are entitled to the vital participation with their parents in "clean" activities, helping them to return as part of the family unit.

Actively associated with community youth programs for the past 20 years, Stewart is chairman of the Community Resources Commission, working with the Glenwood Boys Ranch which is under the jurisdiction of San Mateo County Probation Department.

Wednesday, March 11, 1970 THE POST

He also serves as business manager and assistant coach for the Pop Warner Football League (Daly City Flyers).

A committee to re-elect San Bruno Mayor Neil J. Christal has been formed.

Les Kelting, 2791 Crestmoor Drive, and Steve Pardini, 870 Masson Avenue, have been appointed co-chairman of the "Committee to Re-elect Mayor Neil J. Christal" in the April 14th San Bruno City Council election.

Kelting, former administrative assistant to the late Congressman J. Arthur Younger and active in city, county and state affairs, said, "Mayor Christal has done an excellent job of representing the people and I plan to devote all my energies in keeping this man in office who works for the people and not special interest groups."

Pardini, a resident of San Bruno for 31 years and formerly a member of the Traffic Safety Commission, also cited Mayor Christal's concern "for the homeowner."

Local businessman Bert Smith has volunteered to serve as finance chairman. Smith said, "Mayor Christal has been a friend of mine for many years and I can vouch for his integrity in both business matters and working for the good of all the people in the community."

Mrs. F. A. Hendrickson of Portola Highlands was selected as women's chairman.

We could lease you any new car for $10 a month.

But we won't.

The reason we won't—benefits you. The lower your monthly payments, the more likely you'll have to pay a big chunk at the end. That's because at the end of your lease there's a balance due. If your car's worth more on the open market than the balance—great—you get money back. Otherwise you make up the difference. At First Western Bank we set monthly payments realistically and you benefit. To find out how much we save you, you have to compare not only the sum of the monthly payments, but also the amount you may have to pay at the end of the lease period.

We can save you up to $300. That's because, unlike most car leasing firms, we're the source of cash—the money factory. And we don't have to pay sales commissions. Remember, if anyone claims they can give you a lower payment, be sure to ask how much you'll owe at the end.

Take a look at our low bank rates. Each car below is loaded with extras. The payments are realistic, based on a 36 month lease, plus tax. Naturally, we can lease you almost any make and model with the equipment you desire: Ford Maverick $56, Chevrolet Impala $81 and Buick Skylark $74.

We're interested in helping whether you lease or buy. The lower interest on our direct bank loans cuts the cost of new (or used) car buying as much as $200.

You see, as a $950 million bank with over 90 offices throughout the state, we want you to get the best deal on your car, loan or lease.

San Bruno Firemen Join Union

The fire fighters employed by the City of San Bruno elected to affiliate with the International Association of Fire Fighters it was announced today.

The action took place last Friday night at a meeting after several weeks of discussions between the personnel.

The newly formed union is the eighth group in San Mateo County to join in recent months. The International, with headquarters in Washington, D.C., has an approximate membership of 150,000 professional fire fighting members in some 1500 locals in the United States and Canada. The locals located the greatest distance from the North American continent are Panama Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, Honolulu and Guam.

Bill Wilson, a veteran fire fighter in the city of San Bruno, was elected as president and Leo Middendorf was elected as secretary-treasurer in the new union. H. C. Harmelink, international representative, said that there have been numerous inquiries recently on affiliating, and that the International had to step up its organizing activities. He indicated further that Federal Fire Fighters as well as municipal personnel were seeking information. Reasoning advanced for the inquiries were brought about by the effect of the Meyers-Millias-Brown Act in California which deals with collective representation and the Presidential Executive Order 11491 on the subject of negotiations and contractual arrangements.

Jeff Driver Class Report

With 19 automobiles in use, the Jefferson Union High School trained 874 pupils in its driver training program as of February 1. Dr. Floyd Gonella reported today.

In expressing his "appreciation and gratitude" to the seven north county dealers participating in the program, Dr. Gonella explained, "We have been very fortunate to obtain the amount of automobiles we have this year."

He said they are adequately meeting the needs of the program.

This is in contrast to first - of - the - year blues surrounding the program, when loss of several cars occurred as dealerships went out of business in the Daly City area.

However, only a few short-car weeks went by since other dealers soon offered their participation to the school district, which serves Pacifica, Daly City and a portion of San Bruno.

Classes Set In S.S.F.

Beginning and Intermediate guitar instruction in folk and popular music will be offered by the South San Francisco Recreation and Park Department for boys and girls and young adults 12-17 years old. Classes are on Tuesday and Thursday evenings starting March 31 for ten weeks at Magnolia Recreation Center, Grand and Magnolia Avenues. The Beginners' class is from 6 to 7 p.m. and the Intermediates from 7:10 to 8:10 p.m.

Students must provide their own guitar (no electric guitars), music stand, and are required to purchase a standard music book. Only right-handed guitar students can be accepted.

The Recreation Department will take registration only on Thursday, March 19, and Friday, March 20, and anticipates a capacity sign-up. Fifteen students are required for the classes to begin and registration is on a first come, first serve basis and will close at twenty students.

Registration Is Slated

North County residents, not yet registered voters for the upcoming statewide election primaries, can rectify that situation by visiting the White Front Store in South San Francisco.

Deputy registrar Helen Villalba will be on hand at the store beginning today and through April 9, for the purpose of registering voters.

She said she will be available four days a week. Hours will be from 2 until 5 p.m. and 6 until 8 p.m. on Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, and from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. and 2 until 5 p.m. on Saturdays.

SSF Council Delays Taking Resignation

Marco Senaldi, a South San Francisco housing authority commissioner, has submitted his resignation. But councilmen have not accepted it—yet.

The resignation was tendered because of the recent disclosure law. The hold up by the councilmen, based on the recommendation of City Manager Tom McKenzie, was made until the councilmen know what the

S.S.F. Sign Regulations

When South San Francisco city hall receives complaints of political signs appearing on private property, the city removes them and takes them to the corporation yard.

This fact was pointed out by City Mgr. Tom McKenzie, who said all candidates for the council have received letters notifying them of this policy.

He indicated that PG&E also has sent signs to candidates informing them that sign posting is forbidden on their property and utility poles.

Dog Bites—Hazard To SSF Mailmen

There's a high incidence of dog bite cases involving South San Francisco mailmen, according to postmaster Virgil M. Ringue.

Pointing this fact out in a letter to City Manager Tom McKenzie, the postmaster asked if the city can do anything to "alleviate this hazardous condition to our carriers."

"Notwithstanding the city ordinance which requires dogs to be on leash," said Ringue, "there appears to be considerable number of animal owners who are not complying with the law. This is resulting in frequent animal attacks on our carriers."

McKenzie told the councilmen that the city is now paying $7,200 a year for equivalent of one-man per day for SPCA services.

He said his intention is to recommend increasing this service for the next fiscal year's budget.

AUTHORIZED

Plans and specifications have been approved and call for bids has been authorized by the South San Francisco city councilmen for repaving of the city's corporation yard area. Estimated cost of the project is $6,590.

Public Wait For Hearing On SSF Road

The public hearing on the improvement and widening of South Airport Boulevard in South San Francisco could properly be referred to as a public wait.

Once again Monday councilmen were informed that they would have to continue the hearing due to the fact the appraisal on Bodinson Manufacturing Company property is not available.

City Mgr. Tom McKenzie at the afternoon pre-council session said he expected it Monday afternoon. He told councilmen Monday night that as soon as it was received he would "begin negotiations" with Bodinson.

Activity has been curtailed for several months because Bodinson feels the present proposal would mean unwarranted intrusion on its property.

The appraisal is to find the value of this property and then the city, if necessary, would purchase it.

Incidentally, the first public hearing on this subject was on the November 17, 1969 agenda. When county officials approved the project last year they were assured the city would move on it immediately.

MR. HELENE BUSANI (left), president of the Vista Mar School P-TA in Daly City, and Mrs. Betty Biagiotti, are spearheading upcoming "Sew A Fine Seam" style show. Mrs. Biagiotti is chairman of the event.

Daly City's Vista Mar P-TA Will Hold Fashion Show

The Vista Mar school Mothers Club of Daly City will present a Sew and Show Fashion show, March 14, at 1 p.m. in the Multi-use room. The theme of the show is "Sew a Fine Seam."

All of those modeling will have made their own outfits. The models will include some of the Vista Mar staff, Mother's Club members, and some guests, including Mrs. Frank Greenwood and Mrs. Vinton Straton.

The selection of outfits will range from sport's wear to cocktail dresses and "at home" hostess gowns.

Mrs. Roy Marlow will be the fashion commentator for the afternoon.

Homemade cakes and coffee will be served, according to Mrs. John Biagiotti, chairman of the affair.

Tickets may be purchased at the door, or they may be purchased from Mrs. V. Hansel or Mrs. J. Glosser.

The Season 'Anything But Dull'

The sometimes-dreary late winter season is anything but dull for Troop 1769, Junior Girl Scouts of Daly City's Skyline School, led by Mrs. Fred Gonzales.

When the Jack Cook Mime Troupe from SF State performed at SSF High School, Troop 1769 was there enjoying the show.

On the agenda now is the Girl Scout Cookie Sale, the annual fundraising event which started on February 27.

On March 14 the troop will have a booth at the Serramonte Shopping Center's Community Bazaar.

Preparations are in full swing for a "game of chance," with the girls now busy making small stuffed toys as prizes.

Lending a large assist in this effort are two "sister" Brownie Troops, No. 1790 led by Mrs. Tom Tyrell and No. 721 led by Mrs. James DeVincenzi.

New Cub Pack

A new Daly City Cub Scout Pack is being organized and sponsored by the Hope Lutheran Church at 55 San Fernando Way.

Parents of boys between the ages of 8 to 11 who are interested in joining should contact Gundy or Carl Feil.

The Pack now has a good-size Webelos Den, but more boys are needed to be Cub Scouts.

GROUND MEAT

Handle ground meat lightly when making into patties. For extra flavor, try adding sweet basil, thyme, celery salt, or chili powder to the beef before broiling.

TERRA NOVA HIGH TOPICS

By Anne Dryden

DAVE LIMCACCIO, Terra Nova business student, was notified last week that he has been selected as the Outstanding Male Business Student in the state of California by the California Business Education Association. Earlier in the week Dave had learned that he was the Outstanding Student in the Bay Area. This selection made him eligible for state competition.

Joseph George, chairman of the TN business department, entered Dave in the competition and informed him of his prizes in the state competition. Dave will receive a $200 scholarship and a trip to Los Angeles to the California Business Education Association Convention, with all expenses paid.

BUD BRESNAHAN has made student polls a regular procedure in his social science classes. Students in his classes have an opportunity to express themselves on current, relevant issues in the class opinion polls. Recently Bresnahan asked his classes: "In recent years there have been many investigations into the effect that television has on the American audience. Especially noted is the amount of influence that it has concerning violence and crime in America."

The question is: "Does American television have a direct effect on violence?"

Of the 71 students polled, 36 per cent agreed with the statement, 51 per cent disagreed, and 15 per cent were undecided or had no comment.

The second poll pertained to sex education in schools. It read: "There has been much controversy recently over the teaching of sex in schools. There are many pro and con arguments concerning this issue. Do you feel that sex should be taught in school, and

St. Patrick's Day Program

Committee chairmen have been named for the traditional St. Patrick's Day fashion show and tea which Mercy Shield will present on the school campus, the former Kohl estate, in Burlingame on St. Patrick's Day, March 17.

Mrs. Arnel Johnson of Foster City is general chairman and her assistants include Mesdames Romeo Giovenetti, San Mateo, co-chairman; Henry Hustedt, Burlingame, reservations; if so, at what level should the education start?"

Seventy-one per cent of the students polled agreed with the statement, 9 per cent disagreed, and 20 per cent had no comment. Most students believed that sex education should begin in either the fifth, seventh, or ninth grades.

THE CAMPUS seems quiet and dull this week after last week's display of bright colors, loud cheers, and funky costumes during Spirit Week.

Class signs covered all the walls and rails and a good percentage of students showed up in costume for the Theme Days Spirit Week lasted four days, with special days for crazy costumes, crazy faces, and class colors. Two rallies were held during the week, and classes competed in basketball games.

tions; Aldo Simi, San Bruno, refreshments; Patrick Gallagher, San Mateo, coordinator; Harold Tarabochia, San Mateo, and Henry Carvalho, San Bruno, prizes; John McInnis, San Mateo, publicity; Raymond Whelan and Timothy Regan, Burlingame, hostesses, and Gerald O'Shea, Hillsborough, decorations.

"Fashions On The Green" will be the theme of this year's affair, and fashions will be provided by Mark Fenwick of Hillsdale and furs by Joseph Stefani of San Mateo.

Planning Sale

Linda Mar T.O.P.S. (Take off Pounds Sensible) is holding a rummage sale at Eureka Square in Pacifica on March 14, from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The purpose of the sale is to obtain funds for sending the chapter queen, Connie Roy, who lost 46½ pounds in 1969, and the officers and members to Oakland to represent Pacifica at the T.O.P.S. Northern California Recognition Days April 3-4.

Many of the club's successful losers will be donating their too-large, yet wearable clothing, in addition to the usual assortment of items offered at such a sale.

THE MARQUEE

'Fiddler' Exhausting, Not Tiring

After more than 1,000 performances over four and a half years, Harry Goz isn't tired of playing Tevye in "Fiddler On The Roof" but he is tired of playing it in New York.

That's why he's agreed to a second national touring company, the one that opens tomorrow at the Curran Theatre. Last year he sang the popular musical in Berkeley.

"I don't think audiences will ever tire of it either. It's too contemporary, and appeals to family groups and individuals on a different basis," the youngest actor of all Tevyes explained, at the Top of the Mark.

The press agents couldn't find a good kosher restaurant so they took "the fiddler to the roof."

"There is something in the Sholom Aleichem story that appeals to all ethnic groups whose ancestors had to relocate and to youngsters suffering the generation gap and feel they must leave home to do their own thing."

THE MUSICAL BEGAN six years ago and last week was still drawing $72,000. Anyone who had the foresight to invest in the original project will smile broadly when they speak of it. There has been one thousand percent return on each $1,000 with more than $6,400,000 to the investors on a $400,000 original budget. San Francisco's popular millionaire Lou Lurie is one of its biggest backers.

"I don't know of any Tevye who left because he got tired of doing the show. Several departed to accept film or television commitments. There is enough ham, comedy, opportunity for serious acting, singing and dancing to make the role interesting. Exhausting, yes, but tiring no" said Goz.

The six day a week routine of going from his house in Queens, N.Y. to the theater finally got him down. He'll fly to Denver tonight to see Bob Carroll do his role only the second time he's seen the show from the front of the house since Zero Mostel created the role on Broadway.

This company is the only touring company in America. There are currently 16 in Europe and the film version, stars Israeli actor Topol. It begins shooting in Yugoslavia in August with Norman Jewison directing.

GO ZIS ACCLAIMED AS having the best singing voice of all who preceded him in the role. His passionate hobby is collecting Caruso records, following in his father's footsteps who heard the great singer once in St. Louis. Goz has sung opera and brings a rich baritone-bass to his interpretation, based on his own grandfather's life in a small Russian village called Antevivka.

"All the Tevyes have had nicknames. I'm called Junior Jew, Zero Mostel is Super Jew, Paul Lipson is Instant Jew, because he carried his costume around in a shopping bag. I can't tell you what they called Herschel Bernardi because he claims to have forgotten and Luther Adler's name was not proper to mention in front of ladies," he smiled.

"If I ever did it on Broadway again, it would hopelessly typecast me and I'm now reading two new musical scripts and a legitimate play. The only thing about working so steadily on Broadway is that one day you wake up and your children have grown up behind your back," he lamented.

THE ROBERT GELBERS (Carolyn Sandstrom)

Lake Tahoe Trip For Justwed Pair

At home in San Mateo after a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allan Gelber who were married recently at the Calvary Baptist Church.

The bride is the former Carolyn Sandstrom whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert T. Sandstrom of San Mateo, hosted the wedding reception at the Bersford Park Recreation Center. Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornell Gelber of San Bruno.

Carolyn recited her vows in a floor length Empire gown of Chantilly lace and organza with a Watteau train. The fitted lace bodice features a close neckline of lace and pearls and Bishop sleeves and medallions of the lace were applied to her skirt. Her short veil matched her gown and was caught by a bandeau of Chantilly lace flowers.

Mrs. Neil Hjelmmerwick of San Andreas was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were three of the bridegroom's sisters: Sandra Jean Gelber, Pamela Lee Gelber, and Nancy Ann Gelber. They were dressed alike in garnet red velvet floor length dresses.

The Keith Falsarellas Are Home From Honeymoon

Home from their honeymoon in Carmel are Mr. and Mrs. Keith Falsarella of South San Francisco. The former Carrell Funai, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pianca of South San Francisco. Keith's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Falsarella of South San Francisco. Married at a nuptial mass at Mater Dolorosa Church in South San Francisco, the bride was escorted to the altar by her stepfather, Frank Pianca. Maid of honor for her sister was Paula Funai. Other bridesmaids included another sister of the bride, Lynn, and Nancy Moore and Carol Butler. Keith's brother, Gene Falsarella served as best man assisted by Craig Galli, Larry Dolan and Rich Schroeder. A reception was held at the South San Francisco Elks' Lodge. A graduate of Westmoor High School and San Francisco State College, Carrell is presently substitute teaching. Keith is continuing his studies in premed at the University of San Francisco.

Fund-Raising Lunch Set

The San Francisco Women's Auxiliary to the California Pharmaceutical Association will hold the annual fund raising luncheon March 18 at 11:45 a.m. in the Gold Room of the Fairmont Hotel. Barra of Italy, known in San Francisco for imported knits, will present a "Florentine Fantasy" of spring fashions with professional models and musical background by Maurice Wolohan.

Chairmen, Mrs. Daniel Casey and Mrs. Alvin Pezner announced proceeds of this event will provide funds for Student Scholarships and Community Service Projects. Mrs. Norman Guthrie of Daly City is president.

Garage Sale In DC To Benefit Scouts

Have you heard of Scouting Paradise? The Senior Scouts of Troop 343, Daly City, are aiming to visit just such a spot this summer. Scouting paradise is Philmont Scout Ranch, near Cimarron, N. M. Philmont is 214 square miles of mountains, forests, rivers, and wildlife. It's a land of opportunity for rugged adventure, he-man hiking and camping in the towering Sangre de Cristo mountains. Earning your own way is part of Scouting and the Senior Scouts of Troop 343 are endeavoring to raise a good portion of the necessary funds themselves. Their first fund-raiser will be a garage sale, March 14-15, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at 362 El Dorado Drive, Daly City. Donations for the sale are needed and so are customers. Donations of saleable items (including clean, useable clothing) may be delivered to the Sugarman's, 362 El Dorado Drive or the Orton's, 44 Olcese Court, Daly City.

DR. CARLYN HALDE (Right), a Project Concern volunteer, was welcomed to recent meeting of Women's Society of the United Methodist Church of Daly City by Mrs. William Coy (left) and Mrs. George Simcox. (Post Photo)

Walk For Mankind Planned In D.C.

Dr. Carlyn Halde, associated professor of microbiology, and volunteer for Project Concern was welcomed by Mrs. George Simcox and Mrs. William Coy hostess for the lunch of the Women's Society of the United Methodist Church of Daly City.

Table decorations incorporated Valentine and Washingtons Birthday making a gay and charming lunch setting.

Dr. Halde gave an interesting and informative lecture with slides about Project Concern. She became interested in the project 5 years ago. Using her vacation and taking UC dental students who pay their own transportation, food plus their own materials for the fillings they went to Tijuana Project Concerns clinic and did dental restorations and teaching regarding dental care. At present at UC Medical Center is a campus committee for Project Concern, and these students volunteer their time at Christmas and vacations.

Project Concern is an independent, non profit medical relief program with a deep concern for humanity.

Founded by Dr. Jim Turpin in 1961, self sufficiency is the objective of Project Concern's help to those in need. Working toward that goal are 147 doctors, dentists, nurses, pharmacists, technicians and volunteers. More than 34 nationalities are represented on the staff.

Project Concerns medical clinics are in Tennessee, Tijuana, Mexico, Hong Kong and South Vietnam.

Scheduled for May 2 will be a "Walk For Mankind," a 22-mile hike starting in Golden Gate Park. Interested participants from 13 to 100 are invited. They will in turn seek sponsorship for walking.

At a recent walk one girl had 45 sponsors varying from 2 cents a mile to $10 a mile.

T.N. Parent Orientation Program On Wednesday

Terra Nova officials have scheduled a parent orientation meeting at the school's cafeteria today at 7:30.

Phillip Caputo, assistant principal-guidance, counselors and department chairman will be available as resource people to answer parental questions about courses, college requirements, campus life, extra-curricular activities, or any other questions related to the students' future at Terra Nova.

School officials will also meet with the students twice in their present classrooms, first for the purpose of orientation, and then for official programming.

Student orientation schedules, class of '74: Today, Cabrillo, March 10, Crespi; March 11, Oddstad; March 12, Linda Mar. Programming: March 16, Cabrillo; March 17, Crespi; March 18, Oddstad; March 19, Linda Mar.

Nell Norton Sugar 'n' Spice

Good morning, good cooks.

Come next Tuesday we'll all be wearing a bit of green, won't we? Possibly a touch of a brogue will creep into our talk, for everyone is Irish on Saint Patrick's day, it seems.

The Kelleys, the O'Donnells, the Flahertys and the O'Tooles will join the O'Shaefers, the O'Goldbergs, the O'Olsons and the O'Chans in celebrating St. Pat's Day.

Everyone tries to serve something Irish in honor of the day. The O'Nortons will be serving corned beef and cabbage, Sweepstakes Bread and a grand, grand dessert I discovered recently . . . Irish Trifle. This is really a two-in-one dish, dessert and an after-dinner drink combined.

This dish calls for a sponge cake and the best sponge cake recipe I have come from a dear little Irish lady, Mrs. Maloney. What could be more suitable for St. Pat's day than a cake with this name?

MRS. MALONEY'S CAKE

- 1 cup plus two tablespoons cake flour
- 1 1/4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 5 eggs separated
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- (Bake 350 degrees — 25 to 35 minutes.) to 35 min.)

Sift the one cup plus two tablespoons flour with the one and one-fourth teaspoons baking powder and half teaspoon salt three times. Set aside.

Separate the five eggs. Beat the egg whites until foamy, add three-fourths cup of the sugar gradually, beating until stiff. Beat the yolks until thick and creamy, add the remaining one-fourth cup sugar and beat again. Fold the yolks into the whites.

Gently fold the sifted dry ingredients into the egg mixture. Add the half-cup orange juice and teaspoon vanilla. Blend gently.

Pour into two eight-inch round cake pans that have been lightly oiled on the bottom only.

Bake in 350-degree oven about 25 to 35 minutes. (My oven is being very sneaky and temperamental these days, so I checked at 25 minutes and the cake was done.) So to be on the safe side check your oven at 25 minutes. When the cake tests done (springs back when lightly touched in the center), remove and place on cake racks upside down to cool completely.

(NOTE: Even with the oil on the bottom of this cake, like all sponge cakes, it clings to the bottom of the pan. So you have to gently pry it loose with a thin knife.

THIS SPONGE CAKE is delicious and makes a wonderful dessert. You can place whipped cream between the layers and chocolate frosting on top. Or you could place chocolate filling between the layers and frost the cake with whipped cream to which you add a drop or two of green food coloring in honor of the day.

However if you wish to try the Irish Trifle you must bake the cake a few days ahead and allow it to become stale. Then proceed with this delicious and rather potent dessert.

IRISH TRIFLE

- 2 layers stale sponge cake
- 1 jar raspberry jam, 10 ounces
- 1/4 cup Irish whiskey
- 1/2 cup sherry wine
- 1 package vanilla pudding
- 2 cups milk
- 1/2 pint whipping cream
- 1 egg white
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1/2 cup blanched almonds, sauteed in one tablespoon butter

Using a sharp knife, and cutting carefully, split the two layers stale sponge cake in half. Spread each layer with the raspberry jam, using the 10 ounces. Relayer the cake in a large glass serving dish with sides. Combine the fourth cup Irish whiskey and the half cup sherry wine. Pour over the cake, cover tightly and allow to stand for an hour or two. Meantime saute the half-cup blanched almonds in the tablespoon butter over a low flame. (This is a bit of added work, but the flavor it adds is well worth the effort.) Set aside.

Prepare the package of vanilla pudding as directed, using two cups milk. Pour it over the cake while still hot. Cover the bowl and place in refrigerator to chill.

Whip the half pint whipping cream and add one tablespoon sugar. Beat the egg white until stiff, add the remaining tablespoon sugar. Fold egg white into whipped cream and spread over chilled trifle.

Stand the almonds on end in spikes on top of whipped cream.

NOTE: If you have Irish whiskey, grand. If not, bourbon works fine. The leprechauns will forgive you.

Serves 8 generously.

DC Pack 63 Holds Dinner And Derby

Cub Scouts and their families of Pack 63 enjoyed a buffet dinner at Westmore High School cafeteria. Centerpieces and placecards made by the boys carried out the Blue and Gold theme.

After dinner, each Cub Scout raced the car he had made in the Pinewood Derby.

In addition to speed, the cars were judged for design and originality.

The winners in the Design category were: 1. Jeff Jacobs, 2. Andy Maccagno, 3. Mike Matos.

Awards for Originality were: 1. Mitch Hanack, 2. Frank Austin, 3. Kevin Gary. The Pack 63 winners for speed were: 1.

Bruce Parker, 2. Eric Herzog, 3. Mitch Hanack.

Members of each Den competed for the fastest cars and the results were:

Den 2—Michael Johnson, Marc Reynolds, Timothy Getchell and Peter Nielson.

Den 3—Bruce Parker, John Parker Brian Watson.

Den 4—Jeff Russo, Cliff Ohling and Stuart Broderick, Jeff Ballin.

Den 5—Kevin Gary, Ed Skubic, Geoffrey Farr.

Den 6—Andy Kratter, Bill deQuatro, David Kuhns.

Den 7—Eric Herzog, Curtis Dennison and Brian Jones, Stephen Heimann.

Webelos—Mitch Hanack.

LOUANNE HEATH'S DATEBOOK

ONLY A FEW DAYS LEFT in which to obtain your tickets to the annual Mary's Help Hospital Day at the Races, according to Mrs. Philip Glebow, chairman of the event.

Mrs. Mario Mangini, publicity chairman, notes that the fun day is designed to be a kick-off function for the guild's gala Fuchsia Ball to be held in May.

Tickets for the Day at the Races are being sold for $7.50 and that will cover the cost of transportation to and from Golden Gate Fields, admission to the Turf Club and a terrace luncheon. Friday is the final day to make reservations and persons wishing to take part in the festivities are asked to make the necessary arrangements now by calling Mrs. Glebow, 755-4084 or Mrs. Frank Lawson, 755-2116.

The guild membership continues to grow with remarkable speed and last month seven ladies joined the ranks of workers. Included in the new membership list are Mrs. Joseph Canada, Mrs. Ellyn Canada, Mrs. Leonard Fregosi, Mrs. Marco A. Molina, Mary Mumford, Gale Smith and Clara Smits.

Mrs. Sarah Kelechava has been selected the Pink Lady of the Month by the guild for her devotion to the group and to the hospital as a whole.

Mrs. Kelechava is chairman of the gift shop in the hospital. According to Mrs. Mangini, this is the second time she has served in this demanding position since she joined the guild in 1962.

In addition to maintaining an active volunteer schedule she has served as guild president, corresponding secretary, director and parliamentarian at various times during the intervening years.

THE JEFFERSON COUNCIL OF P-TA's March 3 honored its life member recipients at a special tea at the Martin Luther King, Jr., Administrative Center in Daly City. Among them were: Fred Heron, 1970 (pouring tea, left); Mrs. Hilda Heagney, 1947; Mrs. George Woodside, 1939; and Mrs. George Riley, 1970. The foursome represented the two most recent and two oldest award winners present at the gathering. (Post Photo)

A Court Of Honor For Troop 248

At the Troop 248 Court of Honor held in February at the Westlake Park Clubhouse, new badges of office were presented to Michael Hipschman, Troop Librarian; Tyrone Silva, Troop Quartermaster; Jeff Colvin, Troop Scribe; John Schoolcraft, Troop Bugler; Chris Berry, Patrol Leader of Apache Patrol; Mark Babakan, Patrol Leader of Eagle Patrol; Douglas Chaffer, Assistant Patrol Leader of Apache Patrol; Randy Hawley, Assistant Patrol Leader of Eagle Patrol; Craig Tronoff, Assistant Senior Patrol Leader; Kevin White, Senior Patrol Leader; Edward Anderson, Junior Assistant Scoutmaster; and Jeff Kaus, Junior Assistant Scoutmaster. Douglas Chaffer, Jeff Colvin, Randy Hawley, and Michael Hipschman received the Second Class Scout Badges. Mark Babakan received the Star Scout Badge. Merit Badges were presented to Jeff Kaus, Tyrone Silva, Craig Tronoff, Mark Babakan, and Edward Anderson. One year service pins were presented to Douglas Chaffer and Jeff Colvin. A four year service pin was presented to Chris Berry. Five year service pins were presented to Jeff Kaus and Craig Tronoff. Chris Berry was given a Senior Scout strip.

D.C. Camp Fire Girl Meet Set

Mothers are invited to attend a meeting to learn more about the area Camp Fire program, March 16 at the Westmoor clubhouse in Daly City, at 10 a.m. This program is for girls between the ages of 7 and 11.

Troop 248, sponsored by the Westlake Subdivisions Improvement Association, recently received a 15 year emblem for its troop flag.

Seventeen attended the snow trip to Kingvale turnoff on Highway 80 held by Troop 248 on February 28, enjoying fun in the snow. Hot dogs, chili, hot chocolate, and candy bars were served by Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Tronoff.

"CHECKING" the track at Golden Gate Fields are Mary's Help Hospital Guild members, the Mesdames Philip Glebow, Elwin Short, Frank Lawson, Frank Ingalls and Philip Coniglio. The Guild will sponsor its annual Day at the Races on Wednesday, March 18. Tickets at $7.50 will include transportation from Westlake, admission to the Turf Club and luncheon and may be secured from Mrs. Glebow, at 183 Palisades Drive or Mrs. Lawson, 173 Westlawn Avenue. All proceeds will be earmarked for the coronary area unit presently under construction.

Garden Village's Fiesta Saturday

Garden Village P-TA will sponsor a fund-raising Fiesta on the school grounds Saturday, March 17 at 7 p.m. in the school's multi-use room. The Fiesta will be complete with cotton candy, snow cones and door prizes and there will be roving clowns with balloons and all the trimmings.

There will be nine game booths handled by the different classes. Some of the old favorites, such as fish pond, ring toss, and dart balloons, along with new games like "Lollipop Tree," bumper car, tip-the-cat, pitch-till-you-win and cork gun.

A Pizza Trip

Cub Scout Pack 244 recently was invited by Boy Scout Troop 244 to join in the fun at Ye Old Shakey's Pizza Parlor, in Daly City.

Following the Fiesta will be the regular unit meeting, March 17 at 7 p.m. in the school's multi-use room. Troops were held last week for a talent show, to be presented along with a display of science projects at the Science Fair.

THAT ON-THE-GO-GROUP, The Fifty Plus Club

of Pacifica, is in the throes of preparing for two trips. According to Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, president, the Japanese tour leaves on April 4 for 12 days visiting Expo 70, and seeing the major tourist attractions on the main island. Tour members will barely have time to get home do the washing and catch their collective breath, before it is time to depart on a two day outing to Reno.

Its time now to make reservations for the Reno trip and anyone wishing to go should contact Mrs. Elizabeth Funderburg or Mrs. Ressa Wolf to reserve space on the chartered bus.

Tickets for the trip are being sold for $18.50 per person on a double occupancy plan. Mrs. Calhan requested everyone to please plan to pay for the trip when making the reservation as deposits must be sent to the bus line and to the Holiday Hotel.

A 'Springtime And Easter' Bazaar

With the theme of "Springtime and Easter" to set the mood, the ladies of the Pacifica chapter of the Children's Home Society have been very busy with final preparations for their Spring Luncheon and Bazaar to be held at noon on March 19 at St. Andrew Presbyterian Church, 1031 Valencia Way, Pacifica.

There will be booths displaying baked goods, candies, decorated candles, pillow dolls, aprons, white elephants, and many other items all made by the members of the auxiliary.

Tickets for the Luncheon and Bazaar are $1.00 each and are available by calling Dora McMillan.

Free babysitting will be available. There will be awards and games. Donations have been made by the following merchants: Ross Dept. Store, Comb & Brush Beauty Shop, Linda Mar Jeweler, Crespi Dr. Richfield, Linda Mar Paints, J. Varsi Linda Mar Florist, Linda Mar Camera Shop, Linda Mar Pharmacy, Stroms Boots & Shoes, Linda Mar Hardware, Marianne's Fabrics, Alexanders Furniture, Coastside Drugs, Royal Baking Company.

Proceeds from the luncheon and bazaar will benefit Children's Home Society, a voluntarily supported adoption agency and is licensed by the State Department of Social Welfare.

Presbyterian Church Plans Parents' Day In Daly City

Parents' Day will be held this Sunday at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377 - 87th Street, Daly City.

Parents will meet in the Westminster Room of the church during both the 9:30 and 11 a.m. sessions of Sunday School. There will be a briefing of the parents as to the structure and purpose of the school and there will be the showing of various materials that can be purchased for reading by the parents and the children. There will also be brief visits to various school departments and a return by parents to the assembly room where questions may be asked of key teachers.

In charge of these meetings is Mrs. Robert Mattison.

The superintendent of the Sunday school is Mr. Merton Jones.

Department superintendents are Mrs. Albert McGuirk for the children, Mrs. Earl Pero for the Primary, Mrs. Olive Anderson for the Junior and Tom House for the youth.

Parents' meetings will be held during the regular time of the Sunday School and of the two Sunday worship services.

The Rev. Herbert C. Tweedie is the pastor.

Sports Editor

ONE MORE NEW SPORTS BOOK on the market, in what seems to have been a year of new sports books, is "The Modern Encyclopedia of Basketball," edited by Zander Hollander, a veteran sports writer and former college basketball player.

This book is notable in that it is one of the relatively few basketball history and record books which has ever been printed—at least one of the few reasonably comprehensive ones. We use the word "relative" because we want to make the distinction that there have been and are other basketball books of this type on the market, but in comparison to baseball and football, they are, to use an old but apt cliché, few and far between.

This book does a good, if not completely thorough job of covering pro, collegiate, prep and amateur basketball, both history and records (to be any more thorough would have required at least a 1500 word tome—this one is close to 500 as it is).

It also includes an all-time NBA register (season and career records of every player in NBA history), sections on the Globetrotters, officials, the Hall of Fame, the current rules, and a fine index and bibliography for further reading, features, which are too often missing in such "encyclopedias."

One of the more interesting features of the book is the selections of the greatest all-time collegians and pros by Joe Lapchick, one of the game's pioneers. Lapchick, a Hall of Famer, was perhaps the greatest of the original Celtics, and has been connected with the game for better than half a century.

LAPCHICK CONSIDERS the 20 greatest collegians to have been, in alphabetical order: Lew Alcindor, Vince Boryla, Harry Boykoff, Bill Bradley, Bob Davies, Tom Gola, Dick Groat, K.C. Jones, "Wah Wah" Jones, Bob Kurland, Clyde Lovellette, Jerry Lucas, Hank Luisetti, Andy Phillip, Oscar Robertson, Guy Rodgers, Cazzie Russell, Maurice Stokes, Ernie Vandeweghe and Jimmy Walker.

For the pros, Lapchick limits his selections to the modern era since World War II. They are, again, in alphabetical order: Paul Arizin, Rick Barry, Elgin Baylor, Carl Braun, Wilt Chamberlain, Bob Cousy, Joe Fulks, Neil Johnston, Ed Macauley, George Mikan, Vern Mikkelsen, Bob Pettit, Jim Pollard, Frank Ramsey, Oscar Robertson, Bill Russell, Dolph Schayes, Bill Sharman, Jack Twyman and Jerry West.

Our comments: how could Lapchick leave both Bill Russell and Wilt the Stilt of the list of the greatest all-time collegians, and how could one team have three of the greatest pros of all-time (Los Angeles with Chamberlain, Baylor and West) on one team at one time and not have won a championship?

OF COURSE, no publication can be perfect. Some can't even be nearly right, as "The Modern Encyclopedia of Basketball" none too subtly illustrates in its apparent claim that Jerry Lucas has shrunk an inch-and-a-half since his senior year Middletown High. That's right. According to the "Encyclopedia," Jerry was 6-7 as a high school soph, 6-8 as a junior, and 6-9 in his senior year. And, according to the official NBA Guide, Lucas is now 6-8. Perhaps smoking has not only stunted Jerry's growth, but caused it to recede. We wonder if his mother knows.

AS FURTHER PROOF that statistics and bromides can't always be trusted, consider the case of the Oakland... excuse us, the Washington Capitals last season (Come to think of it, they WERE Oakland last season.) Anyway, whatever they were called, they won the ABA championship.

Now, the bromides say that a title team must have a minimum of turnovers and be tough on defense. But last year Oakland led the ABA in turnovers and was, for the second straight year, last in defense. (118.09 points allowed per game) Throw in the fact they failed to take advantage of the ABA three-point play (along with Miami, they made the fewest, 20) and, also with Miami, allowed the most three pointers to be hooped against them (171) aside from the leader in that department, Denver (172), and one wonders just how they ran away with the title, especially without Rick Barry.

Turns out they did do some things right, like lead the league in points scored, (126.49 per game) in field goal percentage (47.5), free throw average (75.9), rebounds and assists.

That makes us feel better about the world. The latter statistics were culled from the new official ABA Guide. That's right, fans, this is plug publications week.

SEVERAL WEEKS AGO we did a column on the rising drug abuse among athletes. There was further evidence of that fact, if such a lightweight word can be used for such a heavyweight subject, brought out a couple of weeks ago in the symposium, "The Physician and Athletics," at the UC Med Center.

Dr. Jerome H. Patmont, the UC Berkeley team physician, talked of the over-use of not only amphetamines and Novocaine, but also of anabolic steroids, those mysterious body building hormones which can make a 200 pound weakling into a 250 pound Hercules literally over night.

A recent survey indicated that about half of the top track weightmen in the country are on steroids. As Dr. Patmont pointed out, they, like the so-called pep pills, also have many undesirable side effects.

Dr. Patmont was quick to declare that there's no such problem at Cal, and that while at the moment the main problem is among the pros and relatively minor in the high schools and colleges, that there is a pattern developing which could spread on a large scale throughout all of competitive athletics at all levels.

TO US, ONE OF THE STRANGEST holdouts of the baseball season (at least, he was still holding out as we wrote this) is the Me's Ron Swaboda. Here's a guy who played in only 109 games and came to bat just 327 times last year. He hit a resounding 233, chipped in nine homers, and slugged across a whole 52 runs. He even scored 38.

Add to these amazing figures the facts that he's not exactly known as a runner and has an iron glove, and it seems almost incongruous that the Me's are willing to pay him $40,000. That's what they've offered him. What's even more amazing is that he's holding out for $50,000!

That means that Swaboda wants to be paid $50,000 per amazing catch, because as far as we can see, about the only basis for negotiation Swaboda has is that fantastically lucky catch he made in the World Series.

You know the old saying, put a thousand monkeys in a room with a thousand typewriters and in a thousand years one of them will write the Great American Novel.

Well, but a thousand Swabodas in the Shea Stadium outfield and hit a thousand flies to them, and eventually one of them will make a fantastic catch. In which case that one Swaboda should maybe have an extra banana thrown into his lunch pail... but $50,000?

It's guys like Swaboda who are going to defeat Curt Flood. For what he's asking, Swaboda SHOULD be enslaved, for his own protection.

Record Falcon Sprint

The 1970 track season, which was supposed to end in a Mid Peninsula League championship for the Crestmoor High School Falcons, has progressed on a manic-depressive note instead for the San Bruno based team.

The Falcons, whose title potential has been hurt by injuries to key personnel, sustained a 79-56 dual meet loss to Woodside Friday, despite a heroic sprint performance by Chuck Bommarito.

A burly runner with a football build, Bommarito ran to a 9.8 clocking in the 100-yard dash, the best mark in the county this season for the century and one which improved Bommarito's own school record by two-tenths of a second.

Crestmoor's other cause for cheer came from the work of Steve Bule and Steve Trueman, each of whom scored a double. Bule took the long jump and triple jump with respective marks of 21-9 1/4 and 40-9, while Trueman won the pole vault at 12-6 and the high jump vault at 5-7 1/4 effort.

Woodside got an impressive weight double from Jack Young, who took the shot put with a 49-7 mark and the discus at 143-0 1/2.

Falcons who missed yesterday's meet included Toby Garza, the team's second leading sprinter; Art Belasco, their best hurdler, and Gary Hicklin, a quarter-miler and high jumper. All three are hampered with hamstring pulls or shin splints.

"I think Hicklin will be back for our league meets," Crestmoor coach Ron Ebertson said, "but I don't think Garza will for a couple of weeks and we may not get Velasco at all."

Of the MPL title, he added, "Without them, it will be awful hard, but we might have a chance with Garza."

El Camino Nine In Opening Win

Three base hits and a wild pitch on a pitchout enabled El Camino High School to rally for three runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to upend Sacred Heart, 4-3, in the season opener for both Thursday.

Pinch-hitter Dean Heagney led off the final frame with a looping single. After a pinch-runner stole second, Tom Buckley singled in the first run. Catcher Darrell Laver doubled sharply and with two outs the tying run came in on Larry Barton's single.

Lauer scored the winning run on the front end of a double steal attempt as a pitchout attempt hit the backstop and bounced down the third base line.

Six Players Named To 1970 NPL Squad

Apparently working under the theory that the more the merrier, North Peninsula League coaches today released the All-NPL basketball selections featuring a six-man first team and a seven-man second team.

The tri-league champions, as expected, dominated both squads as South San Francisco, Jefferson and Westmoor High Schools placed eight of the first 13 on the list.

3 Norrrth Shrine Players Elected

For the second year in a row, San Mateo County will be well represented on the North Shrine team which will play the South this summer in Los Angeles.

Three players from this county—Serra's Lynn Swann, Burlingame's Hank Sauer and Riordan's Carl Braboy (from Daly City)—were named to the North team which was announced today.

Last year, this area had four players in the game.

For Swann, Northern California's Back of the Year and an All-American as well, the honor is the culmination of three seasons of varsity football at Serra which saw him lead the Padres to two West Catholic Athletic League championships and one second place finish. Although he played quarterback for Serra in 1969, he has been picked to the Shrine team as a wide receiver, his natural position.

He is also the third Serran in two years to be selected to play in the annual benefit game. Jess Freitas and Tom Scott were chosen in 1969.

Sauer, one of Northern California's leading running backs, is the first Burlingame player in 16 years to be named to the squad. The last Panther on the team was Bob DeGrant in 1954. In addition, the choice of Sauer at one of the fullback slots gives Burlingame a total of five players who have been named to play in the game since its inception in 1952.

That figure leads all San Mateo County high schools. Serra is second with four.

Braboy, although he attends a San Francisco high school, is from the North County. He too was one of Northern California's best backs. He led the WCAL in rushing as the Crusaders ran up an 8-2 season record.

Riordan is one of two schools to have two players named to the team. Edison of Fresno is the other. The second Riordan athlete is center Jim Deely.

The WCAL leads all leagues represented with four players on the team. And, for the first time in the history of the game, there will be no one from the San Francisco AAA playing for the North.

Wrestling Tips At El Camino Hi

South City fourth, fifth and sixth grade boys and junior high school boys can learn wrestling fundamentals from three top college and high school wrestling coaches who are offering a series of free instructional wrestling workouts at El Camino High School.

Head wrestling coaches Mike Heffernan of El Camino, Lee Allen of Skyline College and Al Abraham of San Francisco State are volunteering their time and skills to teach youngsters wrestling fundamentals on Saturday mornings.

The program is sponsored by the SSF Recreation and Park Department with the cooperation of the SSF Unified School District and El Camino High School.

The fourth-sixth graders are meeting in the Wrestling Room at El Camino High School on Saturdays from 9:30-10:15 a.m. Junior high school boys are meeting from 10:15-11:30 a.m. Gym shoes and sweat pants are recommended. No street shoes or jeans can be permitted. There is no charge for this program.

Boys will wrestle in their own age and weight divisions. Interested fourth-sixth graders should meet at the El Camino High School Gym entrance promptly at 9:30 a.m. ready to wrestle. Junior high boys should report at 10:15 a.m.

AAU wrestling workouts are being offered to high school and college youths at the El Camino High School wrestling room on Monday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. The instructor for the program volunteered his time and skills will be El Camino coach Mike Heffernan along with help from Peninsula coaches and former Olympic wrestlers.

The program is sponsored by the South City Recreation and Park Department with the cooperation of the South San Francisco Unified School District.

All young men interested in wrestling are encouraged to participate.

Gym shoes and sweat pants are recommended and no street shoes or jeans can be permitted on the mats. There is no charge for this Monday evening program.

SSF Tennis Tournament Is Nearing

The South San Francisco Recreation and Park Department is sponsoring the Industrial City Tennis Tournament during the week of March 21 to March 28.

The tourney will determine local South City champions in Men's and Women's Singles, Doubles, and Mixed Doubles; High School Boys and Girls Singles, Doubles and Mixed Doubles; and Boys and Girls 14 and under singles.

Most of the adult play will take place on Saturday, March 21 and Sunday, March 22. High School competition and under will play during the following Easter week vacation.

Matches will be played on the Orange Memorial Park Courts and, if necessary, evening games under the lights will be staged.

Entry deadline for the tournament is Monday, March 16. Local South San Francisco residents may enter their City Championships by contacting the SSF Recreation and Park Department, Magnolia and Grand Avenues, 588-6200, ext. 50 before Monday, March 16.

Dial Glass Gets Coast Cage Title

The Pacific Park, Beach and Recreation Department's adult basketball league came to a close, with Dial Glass winning the championship over Manor Barber Shop, 66-61.

The Glass boys were paced by Bill Downing and Mac Smith, with 17 points apiece. James Hundan scored 26 points to lead the offensive attack for Manor Barber Shop.

The next adult basketball league will get under way on March 31. For further information about the league, contact Dave Barry.

Hunch Ball Signups On

The Daly City Department of Recreation, Parks and Maintenance is now taking team signups for its Spring Adult 3-Man Hunch Basketball League, which is scheduled to start March 16. Deadline for all signups will be March 9.

All games will be played on Monday nights at the War Memorial Community Center. Again, two divisions will be set up: Under Six Foot Division and Open Division play.

Mastery Ends For Bulldogs

All good things must come to an end, and so it was for College of San Mateo's golf mastery of the Stanford Indians on Friday.

The Bulldog linksmen, for the first time in 23 years, sustained defeat to the Tribe, by the score of 21½-5½ on the Stanford course.

"We've tied them a couple times and lucked out on occasion," but this is the first time we've ever lost to them," CSM Coach Ray Balesley said.

Stanford's Mike Beers, who fired a 76 over the par 71 course, finished with medalist honors for the afternoon. CSM, now with a 2-1 record, will meet Skyline Monday in a practice match at San Mateo Mini Links.

Stanford 21½, CSM 5½.
Beers (S) 76, def. Vuko (CSM) 79, 2½-1½.
Colvin (S) 80, def. Baracchini (CSM) 88, 3-0.
Best Ball - Stanford 21½, Lawrence (S) 84, def. Toschi (CSM) 86, 2-1.
Edov (S) 82, def. Klein (CSM) 84, 2½-1½.
Best Ball - Stanford 20, Zalkin (CSM) 85, def. Walters (CSM) 88, 3-0.
Abern (S) 82, def. Rainey (CSM) 88, 3-0.
Best Ball - Stanford 30.

Crestmoor Nine Beats Carlmont

Bob Forsythe drove in three runs with a two-run homer in the first inning and a sacrifice fly in the fifth inning to lead Crestmoor High School to a 3-0 non-league baseball win over Carlmont High School on Friday.

Nine Grabbed At Pot Party

Daly City police got wind of a pot party in progress Wednesday afternoon and rounded up nine teenagers ranging in age from 15-17 at a shack on Peter Street.

Sharp-nosed police officer Dallas Webber caught a whiff of marijuana as he passed by the shack.

With the help of three other policemen, Webber arrested the teenagers—including three young girls—on charges of smoking marijuana.

The youth were escorted to Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center.

Suit Filed Over Food At 'Palace'

Daly City moved on Friday to close down the "Flea Market" food concessions at the Cow Palace.

City Attorney Albert E. Polonsky filed suit in Superior Court in Redwood City asking that the stands be shut down unless they obtain permits from the County Health Department and comply with state regulations.

The suit alleges that they are guilty of unspecified violations of the California Restaurant Act and the California Food Sanitation Act.

Defendants are the lessee, Robert Dauley, who operates food stand and vehicle, and sub-lessees Mr. and Mrs. Marshall H. Lombardo (cookies and candy), Don Rush (live and cooked crabs), Alberto Ornales (produce, fruits and eggs), Bill Besser (produce), Fortunato Guerrero (produce), and Phil Francella (eggs, fruits and produce).

COMMENDATION

F. D. Minucciani, who recently resigned as a member of the city's housing authority after 22 years of service, has been presented a resolution of commendation by the councilmen.

Bulldog Attacks Officer In D.C.

Two policemen were injured — one rather painfully — when they attempted to disperse some 30 youths participating in an open party on a grassy knoll near the Vista Grande School in Daly City about 9 p.m. Friday night.

Sergeant John Kolbmann was hit on the head with a rock or bottle and had to be treated at Mary's Help Hospital for a severe bruise.

His partner, patrolman Tom Barner, was outflanked by a bulldog which managed to inflict a painful bite on his derriere.

Police were unable to determine who hit Kolbmann on the head or which one of the youths owned the bulldog.

Two youths were arrested in the ruckus that followed.

Michael Ridella, 17, of 65 Florence Street, and Renee Lawson, 17, of 101 San Diego Avenue were booked into city jail and later transferred to Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center on charges of resisting arrest and being under the influence of an unknown drug, police said.

The officers were called to the area, off Thiers Street, after receiving a disturbing — the — peace complaint.

When they tried to break up the gathering the youths became what police call "hostile."

The bulldog probably decided to get into the action at the insistence of its owner, police surmise.

DEATHS

JON MICHAEL LEWIS

Memorial services for Jon Michael Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lewis, 391 Hazel Avenue, San Bruno, were held Friday at 7:30 p.m. at First Baptist Church of San Bruno.

Lewis, 20, is missing and presumed drowned after he disappeared in the surf about 400 yards offshore from Montara last Friday. Three friends on the beach who saw he was in trouble called for help, but Pacifica firemen and a Coast Guard helicopter were unable to find him.

Survivors include two sisters, Susan Lewis of San Bruno and Mrs. Sharon Kay Connolly of South San Francisco; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Mueller of Waterloo, Iowa; and his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shellberg of South San Francisco.

FRANK BONDS

Frank Bonds, 79, 456 Garden Avenue, San Bruno, died Sunday at Kaiser Hospital, South San Francisco, after an illness. He was a native of Texas, and a local resident 40 years. He was a retired carpenter.

Survivors include his wife, Bertha; two daughters, Mary Lee Sanvidotti, San Bruno, and Mrs. Frances Almquist, Kailua, Hawaii; a son, Jess Bonds, Napa; a brother, Fred, Oakland; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Wright, Portland, Ore., and Mrs. Lorene Zillman, Seattle; 12 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 1 p.m. at Chapel of the Highlands, with interment at Alta Mesa Memorial Park, Los Altos.

MILFORD H. LOREAU

Milford Herman Loreau, 76, of 838 Easton Avenue, San Bruno, died Wednesday in Burlingame.

Funeral services were conducted at 11 a.m. Saturday from the San Bruno Funeral Home, 200 W. San Bruno Avenue. Interment at Skyline Memorial Park, San Mateo.

A native of Ohio and county resident for 60 years, he was head of the Loreau and Son Plumbing Company, a member of the South San Francisco Elks Club 209, San Bruno Civil Defense and the San Bruno Volunteer Fire Department.

Survivors include his wife, Rena, son, John, and two daughters, Roberta Marr of San Bruno and Lenore Castello of Huntington Beach, Calif.

Bishop Myers To Visit Church

Episcopal Bishop Kilmer C. Myers will visit Daly City's St. Martin's Church on Palm Sunday, it was announced today.

Following the bishop's appearance at the 777 Southgate Church on March 22, there will be daily services conducted during the Holy Week, according to Werner Herrmann, director of worship.

Bishop Myers will preach at the 10 a.m. service and will also attend a coffee hour afterward.

Vince's Italian and Sea Food restaurant in San Mateo is one of attorney Nathan Cohn's favorite luncheon stops when he is trying a case in the courts of San Mateo County. The prominent San Francisco barrister told Vince Licata's son, Tony, during a recent noonday visit that San Francisco could use a restaurant just like it . . . Scotty Campbell's banquet room is available for parties and special functions. Due to limited seating, an early phone call to co-owner Mary Lou Francis will assure you of the well-appointed facilities. . . . Seeking a new experience in dining out? Then plan to pull up a chair at one of Nick Gust's three Rockaway Beach restaurants, each one overlooking the shoreline of Pacifica. You have the choice of Nick's, The Moonraker, and Al Williams' Papagayo Room. Different menus are featured. . . . The V.I.P. Room at Phil Lehr's Steakery in downtown San Francisco sets the mood for a high level dinner meeting, hosted by Richard D. Keller, branch manager of Electro-Medical Engineering Company.

FIFI D'ORSAY, the "French Bombshell" actress of the 30's and 40's, was a recent dinner guest at the beautiful new Costa Brava, located high above the Bayshore Freeway at Bayshore Boulevard, San Francisco. The vivacious star, who was in the Bay Area to appear on the Lu Ryden TV show, KNTV in San Jose, is pictured with one of the Costa Brava's owners, Art Polizzi (right) and his son, Tom. Nightly dancing to the live entertainment of the Rising Sons began last week. Music is heard via the sensational new "Quadrasonic Stereo," a four channel high fidelity system which features "surround speakers" for 360 degree sound.

The Brothers Cain (Matt and Howard), a multi-talented singing duo who have also served as writers for major television shows and recently cut a record on the Dot label, one of their own compositions, entitled "Two Little Boys," are joined by funnyman Tom Melody in the Playroom of the San Francisco Playbox Club. Tuesday and Thursday are pizza and taco nights, and 25 cents will buy all you can eat. . . After an absence of six months, comedian Jackie Phillips returns to Finnocchio's cast of female impersonators. Jackie's zany antics and droll humor bring down the house during his four-times-nightly appearances. . . Tommy Harris eagerly awaits the opening of baseball season in San Francisco. Reason: many of the visiting teams stay at the Jack Tar Hotel, directly across from Tommy's Joynt at Geary and Van Ness Avenue, and many of the players enjoy their lunch or dinner and beers at Tommy's.

To dine in one of the private tatami dining rooms at Toshio Kiyohara's Iritune Japanese restaurant, guests first remove their shoes, sit on the floor and sup from low tables. Those who prefer the traditional are seated in the dining room with its colorful Oriental lanterns and exotic decor . . . Villa Chartier and The Lanai are two names that rate top mention in any restaurant league. If you enjoy the tropical atmosphere of far away lands and their exotic drinks and food, then The Lanai is every bit that. The Villa Chartier is the "home port" for countless numbers who favor Maine Lobster and prime ribs of beef . . . With the many high rise casinos in South Lake Tahoe you might think Barney's Club would be occasionally overlooked. But not so. Barney's food, fun and "Entertainment the Nevada Way" provides just the right "package" for those who enjoy doing just what they want without any hustle and bustle interference. Join "Barney's Family" — you'll have a ball . . . Celebrities are always dropping in the Sinaloa Mexican cantina in North Beach, owned and operated by the personable Luz Garcia. The tireless hostess has wine and dined just about every Hollywood name you could care to mention . . . Glenn Yarbrough Opens Venetian Room March 12

Glenn Yarbrough, a crooner with a classical background, will open in the Fairmont's Venetian Room for a three-week engagement beginning Thursday, March 12. Glenn got his big singing break at the time The Limelighters began as a trio in 1959. Since then the Warner Brothers recording artist has made concert tours and even seen his dream of having a school for orphans come true. In September, 1969, The Pilgrim Schole opened in the San Bernardino Forest, near Lake Hemet. (Schole is a Greek word meaning house of learning.) Currently in the Venetian Room spotlight is the singing team of Sonny and Cher. . . . Drop in and see Frank and Fannie Torres at their newly reopened Montara restaurant. They're back into full swing after their annual month-long vacation, and are eager to have you try their Peruvian specialties and seafood dishes of every description. . . . When not attending to his Bertolucci's restaurant in South San Francisco, Larry Bertolucci is often found on the golf links of Green Hills Country Club, where he plays a few holes before changing clothes and going to work for dinner.

Salmon In Pizza Omelet; It's At Home With All Foods

"Hush," William Makepeace Thackeray once wrote in one of his novels. "Don't let us speak a word before we have finished the fish."

It is easy to assume that Thackeray was speaking of the King of Fish or salmon, served swimming in a hot delicate sauce or chilled and accompanied by a lemon-tart mayonnaise, for salmon has for decades been the most popular and esteemed fish in the British Isles. No fish has contributed in the past or can contribute in the future as much to the tables of all nations as salmon. As a convenient canned product it more closely resembles its fresh counterpart than any other processed fish, and is one food that is featured in every reducing or therapeutic diet ever devised. For nutrition, flavor, eye-appeal and overall high quality, it's a fish that is hard to beat.

One of the great advantages to canned salmon is that it is at home with almost every other food and in almost every other country in the world. In Italy, salmon has long been used in salads and in pasta dishes, so there is little wonder that it now appears in one of Italy's more recent contributions to cooking, the beloved pizza.

Originally, the term pizza, meaning pie, was applied to any flat, round bakery product. As time progressed, however, the word became synonymous for large flat pastries covered with assorted aromatic and savory foods. Tomatoes, oregano and cheese remained fairly constant, but the other elements that go into the making of a pizza can vary from section to section in its country of origin or according to the imagination of the cook.

A bright new idea in pizzas substitutes a mushroom omelet for the base of the pie, and adds additional color, nutrition and flavor in the form of large chunks of salmon. It's a delightful change in pace from the more usual pizza with the bread-like base.

SALMON PIZZA OMELET
9 eggs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
3 or 4-ounce can chopped mushrooms
5 tablespoons butter
3/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 1/2 teaspoons oregano
1/2 teaspoon sweet basil
1 pound can salmon, drained

2 large ripe tomatoes, sliced
1/2 pound mozzarella cheese, thinly sliced
Beat eggs with salt and pepper until fluffy. Stir in mushrooms and liquid. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in a 10-inch skillet. Pour in egg mixture and cook over low heat for 10 minutes, or until eggs are set on bottom. While eggs are cooking, melt remaining 3 tablespoons butter in small saucepan. Stir in bread crumbs, Parmesan cheese, parsley, oregano and basil. Break salmon into large chunks. Arrange half the tomato slices and half the salmon on top of egg mixture. Sprinkle with crumb mixture and top with remaining tomatoes and salmon. Arrange mozzarella slices on top. Broil 5 to 6 inches from source of heat for 2 to 3 minutes, or until tomatoes are hot, crumbs are toasted and cheese is melted. Serve from the skillet. Serves 4.

Tomatoes Solve Easter Problem

Tired of juggling household chores around as time runs out and you stay in? If you're looking for a few spare hours to select an Easter outfit or visit the theater, count on fresh tomatoes. They're a reliable trust fund of expeditious cooking solutions.

Fresh tomato pizzazz is great, thanks to modern breeding techniques which have produced an impressive assortment of this important crop. Sizes and colors vary from the tiny cherry variety to the big, round pinks and reds.

No one ever tires of tomatoes. Along with rollicking good taste, these merry-makers revel in vitamins A and C while keeping calories to a minimum. Beautiful tomatoes command countless places of honor on menus. Though virtually impossible to enumerate all their table ways, suffice to say you can take a fresh tomato in hand for a nifty munch; they go for salads; sauces and sandwiches (they make the peerless B-L-T famous!) Soups and stews are great tomato hot-plates.

Here are tempting tomatoes all done up in a stunning aspic. Fix it before you go out; then saunter leisurely home and admire your craftsmanship. Our Fresh Tomato Sauce is a fine partner for London broil, or other beef cuts of your choice.

FRESH TOMATO ASPIC
2 pounds fresh tomatoes, peeled and quartered-x
1/4 cup sugar
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 cup beef bouillon
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice

Combine tomatoes and sugar. Cover and simmer 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Put tomato mixture through sieve or food mill. Remove from heat. Stir in remaining bouillon. Dissolve gelatin over low heat. Remove from heat. Stir in remaining bouillon, tomato puree, salt, Worcestershire sauce, Tabasco and lemon juice. Pour into lightly oiled 4 cup mold. Chill until firm (about 4 hours). Garnish with softened cream cheese, as desired. Makes 4 servings.

x-To peel tomatoes, dip into boiling water with a fork. Cool slightly. Slip off skins. Remove stem ends.

FRESH TOMATO SAUCE
2 pounds fresh tomatoes
1-3 cup chopped celery
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 bay leaf
1 beef bouillon cube
2 tablespoons chopped fresh onion
6 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

1-3 cup flour
Remove stem ends of tomatoes; chop coarsely. Combine tomatoes, celery, salt, sugar, pepper, bay leaf and bouillon cube in large saucepan. Cover and simmer 20 minutes. Strain mixture or put through food mill; reserve. Saute onion in butter or margarine in same saucepan 5 minutes. Blend in flour. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until lightly browned. Stir in tomato puree. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture reaches boiling point. Serve with London broil, or other sliced beef, as desired. Makes about 2 1/2 cups sauce.

In Scandinavia, Dining Table Is Focal Point Of The Home

The Danes and the Swedes traditionally regard the dining table as the focal point of the home. And anyone who has dined in those countries or even in a Scandinavian restaurant in any large city in America knows why. Guests frequently have a choice of fifty or more appetizers for the first course alone. Great platters of shrimp, fish with mayonnaise, cold meats in aspic, hard-cooked eggs, olives and crisp vegetables are but a few of the dishes to be found on a typical appetizer or smorgasbord table. Then there are the hot dishes, usually accompanied by a savory sauce, and the array of these is endless. But one of the most popular favorites of the hot fish dishes, served either with the smorgasbord or as a separate course following the appetizers, are Salmon Fried Cakes, golden, light and fluffy as only the Swedes know how to make them, and delicately flavored with dill. So good, in fact, that in Sweden they are frequently served for breakfast with crisp rations of bacon and piping hot mugs of strong coffee. For lunch or supper they are accompanied by a light cheese sauce and buttered pumpernickel bread. The Scandinavians have long been admirers of salmon, fresh, smoked or canned, and use it in many ways. They like not only variety on their table but insist on quality and good nutrition combined with economy. Canned salmon supplies all these requirements. It is less expensive than meat, contains fewer calories, but is important in food value. Brimming with essential protein and important vitamins and minerals it is the major ingredient in their tempting Salmon Fried Cakes or Fritters, and this is how they make them.

SWEDISH SALMON FRIED CAKES
1 pound can salmon
Light cream or half and half
2 cups baking powder biscuit mix
Dash cayenne pepper
1 egg, lightly beaten
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons finely chopped green onions with tops
2 tablespoons finely chopped

celery and dill weed. Mix well. In a deep skillet heat about 1 inch oil to 365 degrees F. drop salmon mixture by teaspoons into the hot oil and fry for two to three minutes, or until fried cakes are golden. Drain on absorbent paper and serve hot with Cheese Sauce. Serves 4.
CHEESE SAUCE FOR SALMON FRIED CAKES
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup heavy cream
Salt and pepper to taste
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon cayenne
1/4 cup grated mild cheese
Melt butter in a one-quart saucepan. Stir in flour. Gradually add milk and cook until sauce is slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Add cream, salt, pepper, nutmeg and cayenne and cook for about five minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat and stir in cheese. Makes about 1 1/4 cups.

TUNNEL THINKING, or "Why - We - Are - Against - That - BARTD - Extension - To - The - Airport - Even - Before - It's - Been - Studied."

South San Francisco mayor Frank Bertucelli and city planner Dan Pass let it be known that they were against any fixed rail system through the "Industrial City" unless it was completely underground. Supervisor James Fitzgerald who had called the meeting to get the extension talks off dead center reminded the purpose of the confab was merely to find ways and means to accomplish the feat—not to lay track.

CONCERNED STUDENTS—Serramonte High School youth are back in the news again. This time a group is circulating a petition condemning trustee Mrs. Jane Powell for some remarks she allegedly made to the local press regarding the recent "unrest" at that campus. The kids are uplight about the statement Mrs. Powell made which read "... she thought the community had contributed a great deal of money and effort already into the school. 'I hope you are taking advantage of calling upon the Daly City police Department to protect all of the children ...'"

So what are they angry at? Being called "children," calling the police to the school, or perhaps the fact that taxpayers have spent a great deal of money for the structures? How 'bout some answers, gang?

SMART TEENS—After much support from this tired old newspaperman (sticks and stones may break my bones, etc.) we are glad to learn the word hasn't fallen on deaf ears. Daly City may get a Smart Teen Club going to combat the rising tide of drug abuse among local kids. Mrs. Jerry Galindo, chairwoman of the Drug Abuse Committee of the Jeff Council of PTA's, informs that a joint meeting of city and school officials, along with PTA reps, will be at the Martin Luther King administration building, 101 Lincoln Avenue at 7:30 p.m. March 30.

AND ISN'T IT interesting that the Martin Luther King Jr. Administration building is located on Lincoln Avenue? No doubt Abe would have liked that.

THAT POEM READ by D. C. mayor Bud Lycett at last Saturday's Hillside Homeowners Association dinner WAS NOT written by Tony Aiello—The Shadow knows the late Henry Kaiser wrote it. Kaiser was a builder (as the poem explains) and liked to dabble in poetry. Nice try Mr. Mayor!

SPEAKING OF THE AFFAIR retiring councilman Edward J. Dennis was caught without something to say when Association president Jerry Delfino called him to the center stage and presented the "old pro" with a plaque commemorating his many years of dedicated service to the city. We thought the tough former union president was trying to hid a tear (???)

BY THE BY—Councilman Dennis touched off a flurry of discussion at the city's last study session when he commented on the fact that attorney William J. Schumacher had applied for a business license and no other attorney had done that during his two decades on the council. How cum Dennis asked? P.S. The staff has been instructed to find out.

LAST, AND PROBABLY LEAST on Dennis—Asked if he was going to attend the League of California Mayors in LA on June 20, Dennis reminded "I won't be in office." Oh!

D.C. POLICE CHARGED a man with illegally discharging a firearm in the city limits, namely his house. Seems the fellow was trying to commit suicide, but missed his head and hit himself in the armpit. Police figure he's been doing quite a bit of practicing. There were bullet holes in all the walls.

SUPERVISOR BOB ST. CLAIR came in for some sharp jabs by Pacifica mayor Nick Gust at last week's dinner meeting of the North County Council of Cities meeting in San Bruno. Gust noted St. Clair had excused himself from the meeting to attend another function and that only the week before he called an important conference for 10 a.m. to talk about the jail "and showed up an hour later."

MYSTERY OF THE WEEK—How does head pizza pusher Ron Garcia manage to flip those pies into the top oven at Shakey's Pizza Parlour in Daly City? The oven stands five feet, five inches above the floor and amicable Ron measures in the neighborhood of four feet ten inches. "The secrets in the sauce," Ron tells. No, we haven't figured out what that means and really don't care if we ever do.

A Feature Potpourri

Broadmoor's Tac Squad Is Ready!

By WILL THOMAS
Post City Editor

What, more than one curious person must have asked, is the Broadmoor-unincorporated Colma area, relatively small (pop. 6900) and almost totally surrounded by growing Daly City, doing with its own, active tactical squad.

The answer, less facetious than it sounds, simply stated, is: Training, equipping and using it.

Broadmoor's police department, technically the Broadmoor Police Protection District and at age 21 the only one of its kind in the state, has a paid force of seven men, led by Chief Ray Savage, who also has assembled a contingency reserve corps of 15.

From these numbers, Savage has put together a tac squad of eight men — once ten men and hopefully that many again soon — trained by veteran patrolman Charles Fleischer.

Although Broadmoor itself hasn't required the services of this continuously trained unit, just about every other area in the Bay Area where violence has erupted has.

Many departments of greater size than Broadmoor have not sent manpower to the trouble-spots, but in most instances, Broadmoor has been represented.

They go in answer to mutual aid calls from other departments. From two to five men from Broadmoor hop into one of their two patrol cars and depart, fully equipped, for hot-spots. Last year they went to Berkeley and Oakland, to Menlo Park and College of San Mateo, as well as to Pacifica to bolster Hallowe'en coverage, and to Daly City's Cow Palace when disturbances flare there.

Savage recalls that the Broadmoor tac squad was born about eight months ago, after the People's Park confrontations in Berkeley, where the Broadmoorites were dispatched under mutual aid pacts.

He sent Patrolmen Lou Donati, now with Daly City PD, and Fleischer to Pacifica for a four-day Army-conducted riot control course.

Donati and Fleischer returned to form and train their own unit. With Donati's switch, Fleischer holds the key training role.

Training is regular, and includes lectures, as well as formation, technique and riot control aspects.

There are county "workshops" and the department uses the county sheriff's office "Tactical Manual for Civil Disturbances."

Twice a month, the Broadmoor squad can be found in "rehearsal" at the Colma Fire Department parking lot.

The reasoning behind this training is spelled out in that county guidebook:

"In order to be capable of dealing effectively with riots and demonstrations, a police department must be adequately trained. Detailing a group of untrained police officers to deal with a mob or riot situation is simply pitting a uniformed mob against an untrained mob. Police are usually outnumbered in these situations. Their training and equipment enables them to perform properly and restore law and order."

To augment this training, Chief Savage hopes in the future to work out a combined program with Daly City and South San Francisco police departments.

Though you can expect five men, usually, from Broadmoor to be heading for the trouble spots when they're summoned, you also can expect to be "covered" at home.

"Of course we have three of the regulars always in the district," Savage emphasizes, "so the area will be covered on all three shifts."

Fleischer, an 11-year member of the department — including time as a reserve officer — says the tac squad training "prepares us to work with any other agency in the county."

Savage, chief since 1952, recalls that such a squad would have been useful if picketing of Colma area grocery stores (over grapes) and the telephone company last year had taken a turn toward unruliness instead of remaining quiet.

"We didn't know what to expect then," Savage points out. Such a unit was not required then, yet, the chief muses, "No matter how small we are, the possibility is always there."

Trial's Emotions

The Dreyfus Affair consumed French political passions from 1894 to 1906. William Shirer in his excellent book, "The Collapse of the Third Republic" (Simon & Schuster) commences his tale of decline with an exposition of this, the ultimate political trial.

Shirer writes, "The whole country seemed to be consumed by blind hatred and intolerance. It was hopelessly and hysterically divided between those, mainly on the right, who believed Dreyfus guilty, and those, mainly on the left, who over the years became convinced he was innocent."

"... the question of guilt of Dreyfus became almost lost in the melee ..."

Today, many allude to political trials in the United States without fully understanding what they are talking about. We have yet to have a Dreyfus case, but are rapidly headed in that direction.

The Chicago Seven Trial, the Black Panther New York proceedings, the Algiers Motel Case, and the prosecution of the Sheriff's Deputies in Alameda County all have certain features in common. The general public has become emotionally involved. While polarization is not complete, large numbers of people have loudly voiced opinions that are not based on truth or fact.

Now, it is one thing to generally dislike Black Panthers (in fact this is deceptively easy). But it is another to believe that specific men are guilty of a specific offense just because they are Panthers. Yet we have just about arrived at this collective and dangerous state of mind.

Similarly, it is easy in our enthusiasm for law and order to approve of policemen. But it is another thing to damn a United States Attorney and a Federal Grand Jury for presuming to charge sheriff's deputies with wrong doing; again, all without relation to, or interest in, the facts. These defendants are to be presumed innocent until found guilty. Until the probative facts are presented to a jury, it is less than wise to tear our procedural system apart just because these men happen to be law enforcement officers.

The trial of the Chicago Seven is another case in point. The public became emotionally involved. As the weeks passed, two groups evolved: a large one, cheering the prosecution and hoping for conviction, and a smaller but noisier faction urging acquittal. Neither really cared about the facts.

This is exactly what counsel for the defendants sought. They didn't want us to know the facts. They wanted an inflamed public opinion on one side or the other, and the great majority fell into the trap.

For it is not likely that we can maintain a system of justice worthy of the name in an era of political commitment. The Chicago Seven Trial was saved by the jurors. Their demeanor, deliberations and conclusions showed restraint and common sense. But, one must ask, "How long can this nation maintain a Dreyfus type public attitude without having the sickness reach judges, jurors and the entire system?"

We are engaged in a formidable struggle. Many of the same forces that have attacked our colleges are now at work on our judicial system. They will win if we fight back with prejudice and passion. Our only successful defense will be the application of justice itself.

By remaining a lawful society we can defeat the seeming purpose of the militant left. Otherwise, we are headed toward political trials like the Dreyfus case, and no one who understands the meaning of the words "due process" can want that.

Not 'Censorship'

A LETTER from a group of students complains that their English teacher lectures on the foolishness of reading pornography. "When he talks like that he's trying to condition our minds—Isn't this censorship?"

Censorship implies suppression by force as in this definition from the Encyclopedia Britannica: "Censorship in modern practice may be defined as action taken by a governing authority ... in order to prevent any publication which would be contrary to the public interest or inconvenient or displeasing to the governing authority."

Surely a teacher is not practicing censorship when he advises his students to leave certain things alone, or is he trampling on their rights as long as he is teaching with objectivity rather than prejudice.

THE TIME HAS COME for students—indeed the whole community—to realize that English teachers have been hired to help each student develop a basis for critical judgment founded upon knowledge as well as sensitivity.

Students do well to remember that judgment in literary matters is developed from examining many points of view, and from understanding why authors write as they do.

Students achieve literary judgment—and all other kinds—from listening, reading, and questioning with an open mind. In "these" days too many high school and college students come to classes with their minds set in concrete and leave with no more knowledge and no more judgment than they had before the class began.

As William F. Thrall and Addison Hubbard write in their famous Handbook to Literature—good taste comes from balance and proportion. "In another sense good taste springs from an ability to place oneself in the mood and intent of the writer through a sympathetic understanding of his creative purpose."

TOO OFTEN PEOPLE JUDGE a book, a movie, a play, by careless opinions. "I like it," or "I don't like it," or "it was funny," or "it was sexy."

Speaking of such opinions Thrall and Hubbard write—"No one has a right to make statements of this sort in belief that he has advanced a critical judgment or that he is giving expression to his own taste in literary matters since taste is not mere expression of a verdict; it is an intelligent verdict for which the critic can advance reasons from his cultural background, from his familiarity with form and method, from his sensitivity, from his sense of balance and proportion."

It is the English teachers' job to give his students a cultural background, balance, proportion, sensitivity—Surely he is not trampling on their rights when he is attempting to do his job.

JUST PRACTICE is all this picture is, yet it represents a parry maneuver that both Broadmoor tac squad members might have to press into actual use if called upon to assist a Bay Area law enforcement agency with riot control.

BROADMOOR POLICE CHIEF Ray Savage (left, front) joins four members of his tactical squad in response to a call last year to assist other area lawmen faced with possible or in-progress disturbance or full-scale riot. Hardhats, until just recently were worn on routine patrol by Broadmoor department. They're back to soft caps now — until the tac squad is called back to action. (Post Photos by Bob Burton)

Citizens Are Sought For Committee

South San Francisco councilmen are still looking for any interested residents to become volunteer members of a citizens' committee to aid in reviewing the city's general plan as it concerns commercial zoning in Westborough.

The committee first was suggested several months ago by Westborough residents concerned with over-commercialization in that area.

Westborough resident Don Gamma early last week had brought the committee to the councilmen's attention, asking for a clarification on why the committee is composed of all residents, since the problem they will discuss concerns only the Westborough area.

He was told by Mayor Frank Bertucelli it was the feeling of the council that the problems of any one area of the city should be tackled by all areas of the city.

Pastor Picks 'Transaction' Sermon Topic

"Transaction Completed" is the sermon topic chosen by Pastor A. David Donnelly for the 11 a.m. worship hour, March 15, in the new church building of Westside Baptist Church, 390 Inverness Drive in Pacifica.

Special music will be provided by the adult choir, with Alton Swedberg directing, and Mrs. Hazel Leong at the organ.

During the adult worship hour, a primary church service is held for boys and girls 3-6 years of age, this program directed by Mrs. Jean Hernandez. Now that the church is meeting in their new facilities, a nursery is maintained at all of its services.

"Not by Works" is to be the topic for the 7 p.m. family fellowship hour message. Special music will be provided for this service, and there will be given opportunity for those present to select their favorite hymns to be sung, and also for a word of testimony.

Saturday will be work day at the new church building, starting at 8:30 a.m. Women of the church will provide luncheon for those workers.

Westside Baptist Church is affiliated with the Baptist General Conference, and meets in their new church buildings, 390 Inverness Drive, Pacifica.

Fifth Lenten Meditation

First Lutheran Church of South San Francisco will have as its fifth Lenten meditation, "The Abundant Life Abounds in Truth," with guest pastor, the Rev. Rodney Jensen, from Our Savior's Lutheran Church in Pacifica delivering the message.

As part of the Lenten outreach, the Walther League youth group has once again used the window facilities of Wrights Cleaners on Grand Avenue in South San Francisco by displaying some of the banners that they made for a special youth service and depict the Christian Symbolism used in the church.

Also included in the display is the schedule of services from the beginning of Lent through Easter Sunday.

Slate Men's Club Sabbath

Congregation B'nai Israel will observe Men's Club Sabbath, Friday.

Rabbi Solomon A. Shore and Cantor Henry Greenberg will conduct the service, at which members of the Men's Club will be honored.

Ronald Cohn, president of the Men's Club, and other board members will also participate in the service. Services begin at 8:30 p.m.

An Oneg Shabbat will follow.

Operetta Set At Crestmoor

Crestmoor High School's Music Department will present "H.M.S. Pinafore" by Gilbert and Sullivan on Friday and Saturday, March 13 and 14 at Crestmoor's Little Theatre. Performances will begin at 8:15 p.m.

Tickets may be obtained at the high school for $2 for adults and $1 for students with a student body card.

English Class Tours D.C. Jail Facility

"FIELD TRIP" — Members of a Jefferson High School Adult Night School English - for - Foreign - Born class are pictured as they observed the activity in Daly City Police Department's records room. As a part of the department's community relations program, Patrolman Ed Welsh (right), who speaks five languages, is leading tours of the police station. Five instructors will take their classes on a "field trip" to the police facilities at Civic Center on consecutive Fridays. (Post Photo)

REPRESENTATIVES of the Miss South San Francisco Pageant committee sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce met recently to formulate plans and programming of the May 9th event. Shown here, left to right, at that meeting were: Les Davis, chamber manager; Ramona Skola, Miss South San Francisco of 1968; Bennie Smith, director-choreographer; Bill Borba, co-chairman; Remi Muylaert, pageant general chairman; Mike Wyman, ticket committee. and Ted Marr, performing arts instructor.

"Something for Everyone"

MATT REIS SAYS: Selection is the shopper's key here at Metcalf-Reis Lincoln-Mercury. That's a fact on which we've always prided ourselves. We have what the customer wants ... and at the price he wants to pay. There's none of this running around from dealership to dealership to find just the right model or color. We have them all. But somehow we manage to bring the replacements in as fast as the front-line moves from our showroom. Whatever it is--Cougar XR7 or hardtop, Continental, Marquis, Montego, Parklane, Colony Park Wagon--you name it, and we have it in stock. And at a price you won't beat anywhere.

THE FIRST contestant in the Miss San Bruno, Miss Airport City, Miss 747 contest hands her application to San Bruno Chamber of Commerce President Donald Risso. She is 18-year-old Carol Lee Terry, a blue-eyed, blonde girl, who stands 5 feet, 6 inches tall, weighs 128, and dimensions are 36-25-36. Miss Terry attends Crestmoor High School, where she is majoring in drama and business. Her hobbies include dancing and singing. Applicants for San Bruno's Beauty Contest may apply at the Chamber office located at 540 San Mateo Avenue. Contestants will be judged 70 per cent for beauty, 10 per cent for poise, 10 per cent for personality, and 10 per cent for creativity. Previous Miss San Bruno beauty titleholders have changed the date of their 99c car wash at Harry Astell's Phillip's 66 station from March 7 to Saturday, March 21st. (Post Photo)

Airport Link Completion By 1975

A major east-west highway linking the International Airport with four major routes and the coastside should be in service by early 1975.

Speaking to the monthly meeting of the North County Council of Cities in San Bruno Thursday, Leo J. Trombatore, deputy district engineer for the State Division of Highways, said construction of a three-mile section that will cost an estimated $35 million may get underway in the next few months.

Exact dates were uncertain at this time, according to Trombatore.

"This final section has caused us a lot of problems," the engineer said.

In an effort to keep heavy dirt haul trucks off city streets in the area, the state is now building two major bridges that will be used by construction vehicles for dirt haul to other sections of the roadway.

Cost of the bridges is $800,000.

Trombatore said the bridges will later be included in the highway plan but must be built first because of the extensive excavating and filling on the new route.

All rights of way have been purchased between the two points. In San Bruno the route will follow the existing state rights-of-way.

The highway will have four major interchanges within a two mile stretch according to maps on the project.

Meanwhile, Trombatore outlined road projects in other areas of the North County, including plans to build a new dam needed to re-route the Junipero Serra Freeway along the San Francisco watershed.

L. C. Smith Company is moving some 12 million cubic yards of dirt fill on this project, according to Trombatore.

The roadway should be completed in mid-1973, he said. One of the biggest projects to be undertaken is the Devils

Slide Bypass that will cost an estimated $15 million.

The State Division of Highways is working closely with the County on this road, Trombatore pointed out.

Some $750,000 will be used to widen the existing roadway between Half Moon Bay and points east.

"This road travels through a beautiful area. I can just imagine what will happen when we start talking about improving route 92," Trombatore said.

Trombatore also predicted that the Bay Area Rapid Transit District (BARTD) would be compatible with future and present highways.

Coastside Horsemen's Association Formed

A proposed Coastside horsemen's association has been formed and is in the process of organization.

Any Coastside resident interested in joining may attend a general meeting Thursday, March 12 at 8 p.m. at Farallone View School in Montara.

A formation committee has worked up an outline of by-laws, to be read and voted on March 12, with a five-member executive council also to be elected there. There would be a representative from the areas of Half Moon Bay, Pescadero, Montara, Moss Beach and Pacifica. A name for the organization also will be decided.

Temporary officers have been named to serve for short three to six-month terms, until a general election can be called. The officers are: Joan Cresson of Moss Beach, president; Andy Lovrin of Pacifica, vice-president; Sue Muth of Montara, treasurer; and Judy Gordon of Half Moon Bay, secretary.

Public Hearing On Water District Set By Board

Public hearing on a proposal to make the North Coast County Water District a subsidiary by the County Board of Supervisors for April 7.

If the board approves, it will clear the way for an election. The proposed take-over of the district by the city, has been a controversial subject in Pacifica for years.

A full merger is not possible because the boundaries of the city and the district are not the same. If the electorate approved subsidiary district status for the water agency, however, it would function as a department of the city.

Tickets Available For Cap Production

Capuchino High Schools music department's presentation of Finian's Rainbow is scheduled for today, tomorrow, March 13 for March 13 and 14.

The social themes are strongly emphasized. As the play progresses, it makes a pointed comment on the left-wing socialism, poll tax, anti-Negro legislation, the TVA, share-cropping, the temptations of suddenly acquired wealth, etc., but the love interest is not forgotten.

This delightful musical with its whimsical Irish humor promises an entertaining evening for both young and old. There are 250 characterizations in the play, which means 16 per cent of the students are participating. Curtain time is 8:15.

On March 12 students from elementary schools are invited to see the performance at a 9:15 a.m. special preview.

Vandals Hit Wander Inn Once Again

Boarded up and battered, The Wander Inn, a former hangout for teen-agers was the victim of another recent act of vandalism Sunday in Pacifica.

One fire a few weeks ago damaged a portion of the beach-side building, and another yesterday caused heat and smoke damage when someone pried loose boards across a window, entered and torched a couch, according to Pacifica firemen.

The windows building hasn't been used as a teen center since the first fire — which was just one more act of vandalism in a long series in the past 1½ years.

The center's seemingly gradual destruction also seems to be capping the existence of the Youth of Pacifica teen club, whose teen center efforts collapsed in the face of apparent disinterest and the continued Wander Inn burglaries, fires and vandalism.

A color television set, candy and money have been stolen. In addition to setting fires, vandals have damaged plumbing, broken windows, and stolen furniture to use as kindling wood for beach fires.

The center was started in 1968 after the summer youth riots in the Linda Mar Shopping Center. Although the first officers of YOP were made up of those directly involved with the riots, its leaders in later months were comprised of Terra Nova High School students, more recently led by Miss Karen Espersen.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
1. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, will receive sealed bids for the furnishing of all labor, materials, transportation, and services required for:
SPECIAL MILLWORK IN OUTPATIENT CLINIC AT SAN MATEO COUNTY GENERAL HOSPITAL, W. 38TH AVENUE & EDISON STREET, SAN MATEO, CALIFORNIA, FOR THE COUNTY OF SAN MATEO.

2. Instructions for bidders, bid forms, specifications and contract documents may be examined at the office of the County Purchasing Agent, Redwood City, California. All bids shall be submitted in accordance with the requirements and conditions of said documents, including such bid bonds as may be required.

3. Drawings, specifications and contract documents may be examined and copies obtained at the office of the County Purchasing Agent, Redwood City, California, upon deposit of $10.00 for said documents, which deposit will be forfeited if the Contractor fails to return the specifications in good condition within ten (10) days of the bid opening date.

4. Bids shall be sealed and filed with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo at the Hall of Justice and Records, Redwood City, California, on or before the 7th day of April, 1970, at 2:00 p.m. and will be opened in public in the Chambers of said Board of Supervisors at or about 2:00 p.m. of that day in said Hall of Justice and Records.

5. WAGE RATES: The Board of Supervisors has determined and has published the rates of prevailing wages in the County of San Mateo, in which the work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to perform the contract. Said prevailing rates are set forth on listing, copies of which are set forth in the specifications for the work, in the offices of the County Clerk, Purchasing Agent and Director of Building Construction. Crafts and rates per hour for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to perform this contract are listed under Wage Rates, Instructions to Bidders.

6. The prevailing rates so determined are based on an 8-hour day, 40-hour week, except as otherwise noted; Existing agreements between the Building Trades and the Construction Industry groups relative to overtime, holidays and other special provisions shall be recognized.

7. It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor, and upon any subcontractors under him, to pay not less than the said special rates to all laborers, workmen or mechanics employed by them in the execution of this Contract.

8. A Bond will be required for the faithful performance of the Contract in an amount not less than One Hundred Per Cent (100%) of the amount of the Bid, and a Bond will be required to guarantee the payment of wages for services engaged and all bids contracted for materials used in the performance of the Contract in an amount of not less than One Hundred Per Cent (100%) of the Bid.

Last Drive Is On To Send Band On Tour Of Europe

A final push to collect $5,000 in funds to send the El Camino High School jazz band to Europe is under way this month on the Peninsula.

The talented South San Francisco band with dancers and vocalists will represent the state of California on their two week tour of Denmark and West Germany.

Some $20,000 has been collected thus far but the last few days has seen the funds slow down to a bare trickle. "We only have three weeks to go and we are becoming a bit worried," said principal Bob Keropian. "We have come thus far and we don't want to lose out at the last moment." The band has staged numerous fund raising activities which will be capped by a big dance at the school this Saturday.

The 43 band members under the direction of Ted Marr and his wife, Elizabeth Marr, choreographer, will depart April 25 if all goes well. The band is planning a big show to thank the Peninsula on April 4-5 at the school.

Those who wish to contribute may send funds to the El Camino Band Fund, 1320 Mission Street, South San Francisco.

Hitchhikers Are Arrested

Two hitchhikers were arrested by Daly City police on Sunday in separate instances and booked for possession of marijuana.

Arrested as he tried to thumb a ride at the Junipero Serra Freeway on-ramp at Alemany Avenue shortly after 2 p.m. was Joseph Piazza, 26, of 404 Miller Avenue, South San Francisco.

Police said they found a small quantity of marijuana in the suspect's pocket.

The second hitchhiker arrested was Steven Sexton, 21, of 970 Magnolia Avenue, Millbrae, who was also attempting to get a ride at the Alemany on-ramp of the Junipero Serra Freeway about 5 p.m.

A routine check of Sexton's duffel bag allegedly turned up six "lids" of marijuana.

Wolfhound Is Stolen

A champion Russian Wolfhound valued at more than $1,500 was stolen from a parked car on Peoria street Saturday.

The canine is white, five years old and weighs about 115 pounds.

Owner Randy L'ete, of 4280 Camino Andres, Pittsburg, California said he was visiting a friend and returned to his car about 1:30 a.m. and found the dog missing.
